Galantha discusses sewer study with homeowners

MARY FOLEY

Martin Galantha, superintendent of the Lake County Public Works, spoke to members of United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) as well as to concerned citizens about a proposed sewer feasibility study. Public officials including Antioch Township Trustees Tim Osmond and Claudette Skvarce as well as County Board Member Judy Martini indicated their support for the study.

One of the concerns of members of UHAUA was who would pay the cost of the feasibility study. "The cost of the study will be an See SEWER page A10

Exec. director keeps Fox Waterway post

Fox Waterway Agency Executive Director Karen Kabbes received a ground swell of support after coming under fire from two directors representing McHenry County.

Many individuals from various groups attended the Agency meeting in McHenry to defend Kabbes from a motion to fire her, made earlier at a committee of the whole assembly by Agency Directors Carl Woerner and George Thompson.

Carole Jonites, president of the United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch, representing thousands, spoke of Kabbes' methods at the Agency meetings and otherwise.

"Karen Kabbes has always gone the extra mile for our group," said Jonites. When a meeting got out of hand once, "It was Karen who smoothed the ruffled feathers."

Among other things, Jonites credits Kabbes and former board director Judy Martini for working together to get her association a pier remodeling permit from IDOT.

Kim Schnoor and her father, Fritz, representing Chain O' Lakes Marina, as well as several others, including Munson Marine, said she wanted to "publicly thank Karen Kabbes" for all she's done.

Schnoor said people used to say to her that they wouldn't eat the See WATERWAY page A10

Trust funds set up for deputy's daughter

MARY FOLEY

Two trust funds have been set up for Jessica Latham, the 4-year-old injured last week in a freak accident on the I-55 in Chicago. Jessica is the daughter of Sheriff's Deputy James Latham and his wife, Laura.

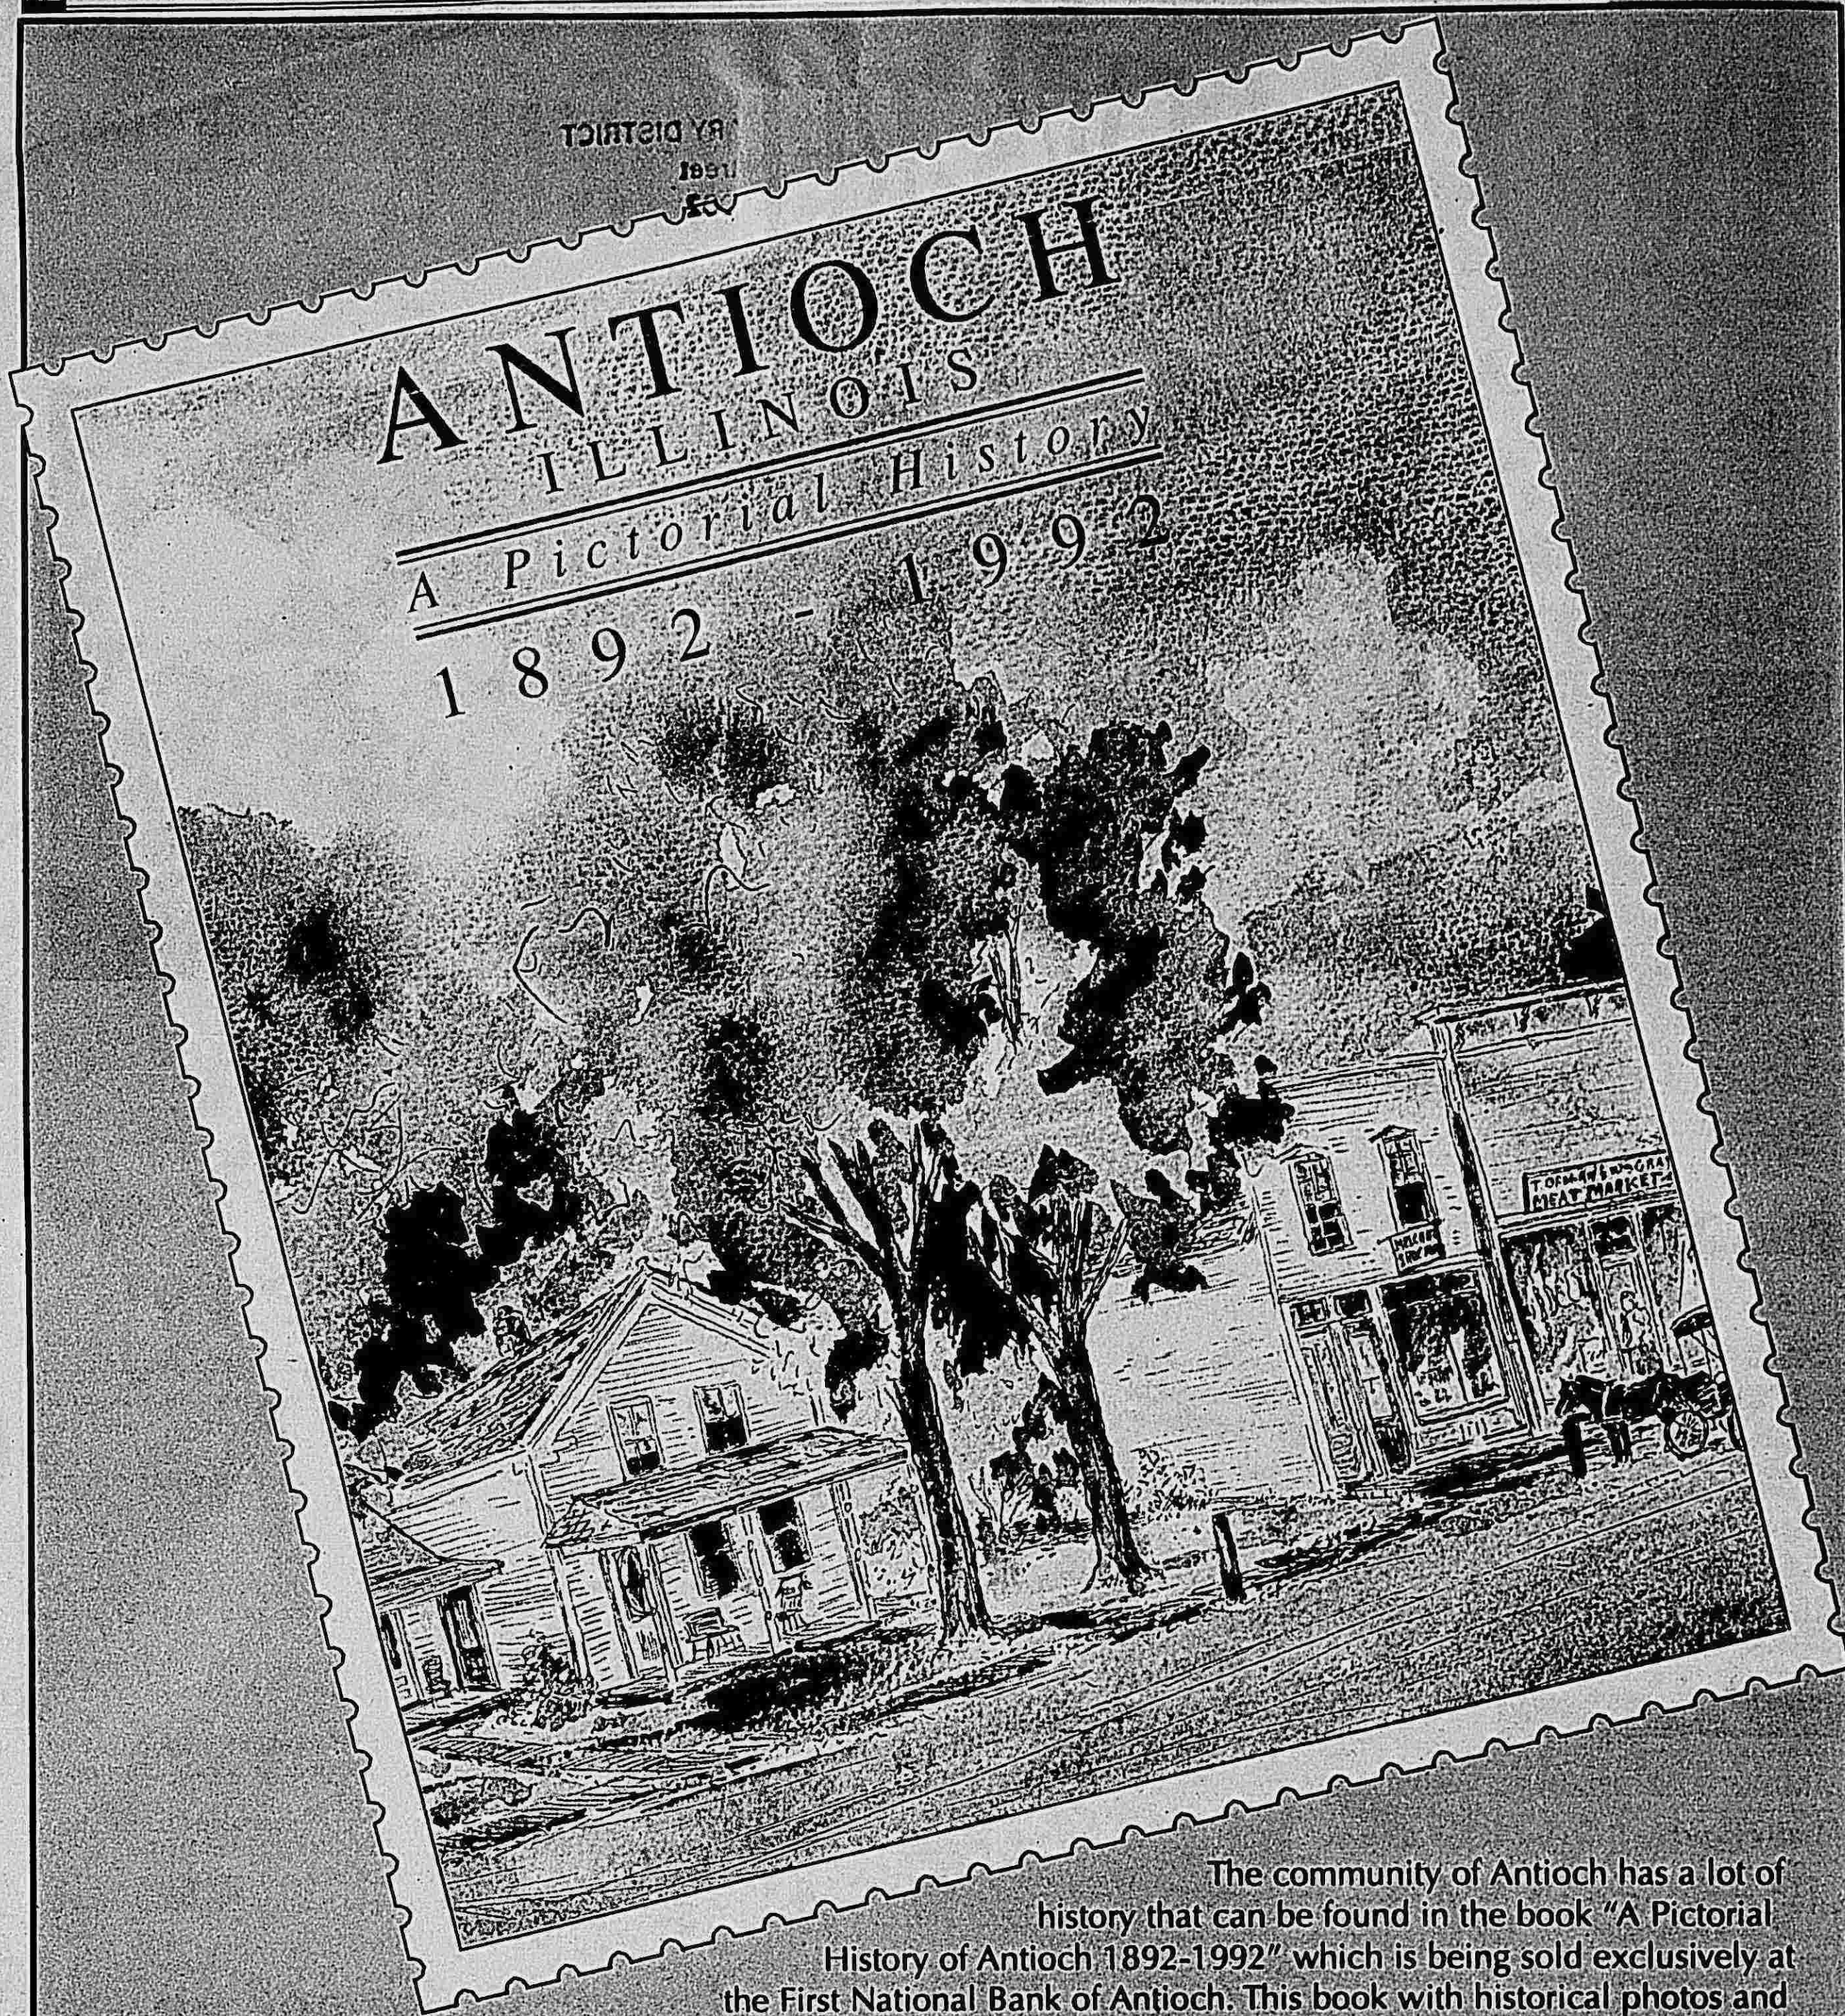

Jessica was injured when a 50-pound section of a brake drum flew off the back of a salvage truck and went through the windshield of the Latham car. The piece of metal initially struck James, however, he was still wearing his bullet-proof vest. The metal bounced off his chest and flew into the back seat striking Jessica in the face.

"Her injuries were extensive," said Lake County Undersheriff Gary Del Re. "She has a broken cheek, broken jaw, broken eye orbit and broken nose. She will have a very prolonged recovery, but we are optimistic it will be a full recovery. It may take a number of years."

James suffered a bruised chest and shoulder. His wife, Laura, was See TRUST FUND page A10

Township sets tax levy amounts

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township set the levy amounts for the tax year last Thursday. In general, the levy amounts increased 2.7 percent over last year.

"This is only an estimate," said Supervisor Jim Fields. "We never know what we'll get."

Last year, Antioch received $392,285 for the township fund. The board is asking for $402,880 this year.

Levy amounts include

$323,448 for general corporate, $9,000 for insurance, $44,240 for Illinois Municipal Retirement, and $26,192 for social security tax.

For the highway levy, the township is asking for $441,430. Of this amount $242,630 is Road and Bridge Tax, $50,000 insurance, $43,000 Illinois Municipal Retirement, $26,000 Social Security, and equipment and building $69,800.

During the meeting, Trustee Claudette Skvarce asked why the Township is asking for a 2.7 percent increase if overall assessments are up.

Township Assessor Cliff Houghton explained, "You can only receive 2.7 percent over what you had last year. You can ask for 15 percent, but the County will only give you 2.7 more."

The individual tax rate is computed by dividing the levy amount by the area's equalized assessed valuation (EAV). That number is then multiplied by an individual property assessment.

Township talks senior tax freeze

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

During the last Antioch Township Board meeting, trustees discussed the property tax freeze for seniors. The deadline for filing an application for 1994 is in January.

"There are a lot of questions about the law," said Township Assessor Cliff Houghton.

"The law does not address capital improvements to the home, or if the assessments in the area go down."

The law, which is intended to provide tax relief to senior citizens, would freeze the assessment at the 1994 level for those age 65 or older. For younger taxpayers, the freeze takes effect when they reach age 65.

To address some of the questions about the new law, Trustee Tim Osmond suggested an informational session. "Maybe in January or February," said Osmond.

Houghton told the board he plans to tell seniors about the program when they file their homestead exemptions.

"We will have the applications in the township office," said Houghton. The County will also provide notices and applications.

The freeze would apply to seniors making $35,000 a year or less.

Seniors will need to refile every year for the freeze. The filing date for 1995 will be May 19 of that year.

As for the questions about the new law, Houghton said assessors are waiting for a ruling.

Baker, Martini trade Fox Waterway seats

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A Fox Waterway Agency director is taking on a new role, but will remain within arm's reach.

The State's Attorney's office said Judy Martini's position with the Agency would be a conflict of interest with her new role as Lake County Board representative for Dist. 1 in Antioch.

In particular, a conflict could result due to the Lake County Marine Patrol contract. Martini gave up her position as Agency director.

She will, however, be trading places with Ron Baker of Lake Villa Township. Martini was appointed to fill his spot as chairman of the Agency's Citizen's Advisory Committee. For seven years Baker had that seat on the committee.

Martini, four-year Agency director, said she has been an observer for eight years. She stressed while she won't be able to vote on any subjects, she'll always be involved with the issues.

Dr. William Dam, chairman of the Agency, was tickled about the area Baker lives in. "We haven't had a Lake Villa Township board member for a long time," Dam said.

Baker is the proprietor of Baker Marine Support in Antioch. He grew up with Dick and Jerry VanDyke and Gene Hackman — literally. Bake was born and raised in the central Illinois city of Danville. "I've always lived on the water," explained Baker with a smile.

Baker has a vast knowledge of the rivers and lakes. For a number of years he worked for the

Ron Baker

Outboard Motor Company better known as "OMC." He was first employed there in Forest Lake, Minn. near St. Paul. Later he was transferred to the Waukegan company.

He later opened his own company on the Chain O' Lakes. Baker feels he has a lot to offer the Waterway Agency. He said he feels by running his marine supply and service business, he is better able to aid the Agency in spending money wisely.

Baker seems to have that rare balance when it comes to the two worlds of the waters. While he understands the need to preserve wildlife and re-create habitats, he is also conscious of the boaters and the desire for recreation.

"There's enough water, enough area (for everyone)," Baker explains of the Chain.

And most of all, he wants to help heal the intimacies of the Agency board. "I've got friends on both sides," he said. "I want it to work together (again)."

Traditional column won't appear this year

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Russ Fairchild, the colorful columnist, will not be submitting his annual series entitled "Take A Walk in Antioch." Fairchild, a retired postal carrier, wrote his first "Antioch Walk" series in 1983 and hasn't missed a year since. On an annual basis, Fairchild wrote of his walks through Antioch during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday.

"I'm not writing anything this year," said Fairchild. He added, "I didn't think anyone would be looking." According to Fairchild, he will not be submitting an article because of health problems.

"Holiday Greetings," Fairchild wrote in that very first article. "Well, with Thanksgiving past, we can now plan ahead to Christmas, and with these pleasant thoughts in mind, dress warmly, come along in spirit, and be my early morning guests."

In 1983, Fairchild first visited the Las Vegas Restaurant. He met among other people, Dixie Spark who was the Antioch Chamber of Commerce president that year and former Antioch Village Trustee Rod White.

It was on to the Vault where Fairchild met Harold Mason, who had just retired from the Antioch Police Department in 1983. Fairchild also ran into David Heath, who was the Antioch road commissioner.

Every year, Fairchild's trips through Antioch took him to restaurants, the VFW, the Moose Lodge, and just about anywhere else Antiochians congregate. While his loyal readers will miss his column this year, it is possible the column will appear next December.

Petitions available for village seats

Three spots on the Antioch Village Board are up for grabs in the April election. Trustees Donald Amundsen, Wayne Foresta, and Mabel Lou Weber all have terms expiring in 1995 and petitions are available at the Antioch Village Hall.

To date, only three petitions have been taken out by Foresta, Weber, and Taso Maravella. So far, none have been returned.

Larry Hanson, former village trustee, is planning to take a run at the office again. While he has not yet picked up his petition, he expects to after the Christmas rush.

"There is plenty of time yet," said Hanson. —by MARY FOLEY

Christmas greenery

Antioch Lower Grade School will be selling various Christmas greenery again this year. The selection has expanded and will include wreaths, swags, poinsettias, and cyclamens supplied by Koeune's Greenhouse of Antioch. Students are being asked to sell only to family and close friends. If you are interested in purchasing items and do not know a student at the school, please call 395-0845.

School closings

With the advent of inclement weather, parents are reminded that school closings are announced on WKRS radio (1220 AM). Decisions to close Antioch schools because of bad weather are made jointly, between the feeder schools and Antioch Community High School. Try not to call the schools because phone lines become tied up.

Cold weather wear

Parents are reminded to bundle up your kids before sending them off to school. Children often spend time outside waiting for the bus and many lower grades have recess time outside. Mittens, snowpants or snowsuits, hats, boots and other cold weather gear are needed.

Contract settled

The Emmons School Board of Education and the Emmons Teachers Council have negotiated a three year contract. Teachers will see a 5 percent increase in salary and benefits each year. Other contract features include a smoke-free building, additional incentives for advanced training, and changes in coaching and extra duty stipends.

School dance

Dec. 16 is the date for the Emmons Middle School dance. The dance will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Teacher brings 45-minute trip to China

To span continents and cultures is every student's dream. For many, this will never happen. Antioch Lower Grade School brought a country and culture to the students in Antioch.

Kris Bolin, music teacher at A.L.G.S., traveled to the People's Republic of China with delegates of the Citizen Ambassador Program. While there, she studied their education system and cultural activities. In conjunction with her return, a presentation of "East Meets West" was held at the school. Qiu Min Ji, a famous Chinese musician, brought China and its culture to the students at their level of understanding.

Qiu Min Ji first demonstrated the "Erhu," a traditional Chinese musical instrument. This beautiful instrument consists of a mahogany sound box with a side covering of snake skin attached to a neck with two strings and a connected bow. The nearest instrument to compare it to would be a violin, but the sound is far different. She played and sang four native songs and explained the meanings in English. The students learned that the Chinese place much importance on nature in their music.

Qiu Min Ji then brought out various costumes worn at festivals. She enlisted the help of audience members in modeling. In the adult costumes, first grade teacher Julie Poremba was dressed in orange silk with hand embroidered dragons that represented what an emperor would wear. Kathy Jester (a first grade teacher, also) dressed as a traditional Chinese bride in blue silk with an elaborate headdress.

In the children's wear, Jackie Smith and Kristin Witt were dressed in jackets worn by girls during the Chinese New Year's celebrations; Katie Hofeldt wore a traditional ladies' dress; and Jerry Mahoney wore a white suit typically worn by boys who participate in the dragon dance.

Interspersed with all this activity, Qiu Min Ji was teaching the students various words in Chinese, such as "thank you" and "good morning", and showing the written symbols representing these words.

The dragon dance, Qiu Min Ji's finale, drew the most enthusiasm from the audience. The various colorful "sections" of the dragon have different movements and the whole audience had to audition for a coveted role of a dragon "section." In the small dragon costume, Eric Kruthers and Danny Bock danced around the gymnasium, following Qiu Min Ji and Kent Green in the large dragon costume.

At the end of the dragon dance song, the boys received an ovation for their dance and Qiu Min Ji received a heartfelt "thank you" in her native language from the enthralled audience.

The students "returned" to Antioch from China with a much better understanding of another people and place. This presentation is not something the students will forget too quickly.

Drug bust winds up with arrest

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Gerald Ahern, age 50, was arrested at his home in Antioch on a outstanding warrant for drug delivery and possession. In all, Ahern, also known as Pucky, is facing a total of 14 charges including two Class X felonies.

"We've been working on this a long time," said Lake County Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) Director Mike Maley. "The investigation began in April."

Ahern's arrest just about winds up a cooperative effort between the Lake County State's Attorney's Office, the Antioch Police Department, and the Lake County Sheriff's Department. On Nov. 3, six people were arrested and officers confiscated approximately $10,000 in cocaine.

The investigation centered on two Antioch Township resorts, the Ship and Langs. Neighbors reported a large amount of traffic in and out of the taverns. More importantly, the drug activity at the taverns were known to high school-age people in the area.

Grover Gunn, 39 and his daughter, Samantha, age 18 along with Liza Shannon, 22, were arrested in the earlier bust on various charges including possession of a controlled substance and intent to deliver. Anthony Gaeti, Kenneth Harvey, and Barbara Grant, all of Antioch Township were also arrested.

According to Maley, Ahern was, "A major player who dealt with small quantities." Maley said the group sold cocaine in 1/2 gram to gram amounts, but very frequently. "They made many, many sales," he said.

Maley believes the arrests, which were mostly cocaine related, will significantly impact the availability of the drugs in the Antioch area.

In addition, one juvenile was charged in the incident.

EPA tickets marinas for violations

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 5 has issued field citations to four Lake County marinas for underground storage tank violations.

The marinas are Gaa Oil Co., Bob's Outboard Sales & Services and Sequoit Harbor, all of Antioch, and Pistakee Marina of Fox Lake.

Penalties of $450 were proposed for each marina—$300 for failing to provide adequate leak-detection methods and $150 for failing to keep records of leak-detection monitoring.

EPA said field citations are similar to traffic tickets.

They are issued for minor violations which can be corrected within 30 to 60 days and include penalties ranging from $50 to $300 per violation.

Ice fishing season begins on Chain

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

After our recent seasonal cold snap, ice fishing enthusiasts have taken to the ice as the ice fishing season begins in the Chain O'Lakes area.

Caution, however, is necessary since the ice on some of the deeper lakes is not yet ready.

"I would recommend they approach the larger lakes with caution," said Greg Dickson of Triangle Sports and Marine. "The larger lakes are not quite ready."

Dickson says ice fishing began last Sunday on some of the back waters in the Grass Lake area. According to Dickson, Grass Lake currently has 3 to 4 inches of ice. "The ice is good," said Dickson.

The bait of choice at this point are "spikes and wax worms," Dickson explained. Anglers have been pulling out blue gills and crappies so far.

On a sad note, Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC) has discontinued its ice fishing report.

According to the taped message, the group will no longer provide the report because of vulgar messages which were left on the machine.

Instead, the NICC recommends anglers get their ice and fishing information from area bait shops.

How do I look?

The independence, intelligence, sensitivity, humor, etc. of the little ones of the Camp Crayon Program continues to amaze me day after day, month after month, year after year.

A day never goes by that little Jeff Baird doesn't show up with a headband of some sort, be it a baseball cap or a special headband from one of his older brothers. In fact, Jeff is quite fashion-minded from head to toe.

As we sat in our activity circle, Jeff turned the brim of his special baseball cap to the back of his head. As I glanced in his direction thinking he looked like a Norman Rockwell painting of a typical boy, he inquired, "Miss Liz, is my cap making my ears stick out?" I said, "No, Jeff, you look just fine and your ears look okay too."

He accepted my opinion that he was "up to snuff" in the area of fashion, definitely relieved that he looked like the cool dude that he is!

Tradition

Bear with me as I repeat myself in order to share a fun holiday activity with you. It's called an opened up at the same time by the recipients. When all ornaments have been distributed and opened, there is more munching and conversation, topped off with the ever so enjoyable grab bag game. It is truly a wonderful way to kick off the holiday season, and a fun way to keep in touch with old friends.

Debi Mozal hosted such an affair in her beautiful Antioch home and the guests in attendance were Fran Adelizzi, Linda Boerman, Marie Brausam, Cathy Dunfrund, Gloria Gambit, Barbara Miller, Natalie Newcomb, Darlene Olenick, Tricia Olenick, Lois Petykowski, Lori Teaters, Donna Verschueren and myself. Try it, you'll like it!

After chatting and snacking for a fair amount of time, the festivities begin. Each person takes a turn passing out her own ornaments and in turn they are

Century 21 helps needy children at Christmas

As the Christmas season approaches, many start to think of home and family, of memories from years past and of plans for the years yet to come. Families are able to share a traditional Christmas and share the feelings of love and fellowship that define this time of year.

Unfortunately, not everyone can share those warm fuzzy feelings, because not everyone has that kind of family. There are children whose faces do not ask if Santa is real—they know he isn't. "There are too many children who have to do without toys at this time of year," said Joe Epifanio, broker/owner of Century 21 Epifanio & Assoc. "That's why we decided to do something for the needy this year."

There are three different drives being conducted by the agents at Century 21 Epifanio & Assoc. Toys are being collected for abused and neglected children in Lake Co., along with non-perishable food for the Antioch Food Pantry.

The office has also been designated as an official drop-off site for checks for Wally Phillips' Neediest Kids' Fund. "This community has been so good to us, we wish to do something in return," said Epifanio. "Helping children is the most worthwhile activity anyone can get involved in."

Donations for the needy can be dropped off at Century 21 Epifanio & Assoc., 974 Main St., Antioch. For information contact Donna at 395-5900.

Shop Antioch Reward offered to shoppers

A reward is being offered to Christmas shoppers in downtown Antioch. All Christmas shoppers that are "turned in" will find the following rewards in most shops:

- A terrific selection of merchandise (instead of that "picked" over selection you find in other places);
- helpful sales people;
- free gift wrapping (in some stores);
- unique merchandise that hasn't flooded the malls;
- great gift suggestions;
- personalized service;
- packing and shipping;
- a pleasant shopping experience;
- short check-out lines; and
- insider information of what your wife/husband has already purchased from that store.

Recital donates to A Safe Place

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Anyone who likes the sounds of Handel, Schubert, Wolf and other classical composers will be in holiday heaven Dec. 18 when soprano Carolyn Rose-Rynex performs a recital of Christmas music.

Rose-Rynex, an eight-year Grayslake resident and voice teacher at College of Lake County, has scheduled an event entitled "Songs for the Mother and Child" at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Grayslake. Proceeds from the concert will be donated to A Safe Place in Waukegan.

Admission is a free will offering, but a $10 donation is suggested. Rose-Rynex selected A Safe Place because she has worked in the past with women's self-growth groups. She felt A Safe Place was very worthy of a charity effort on her part, and she wanted to support the work done there for women and children.

"The Christmas story is a celebration of the mother and child. It just seemed to fit," she said.

For her musical selections, Rose-Rynex will be singing "Rejoice Greatly" from Handel's "Messiah," Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Wolf's "Spirit" from the "Spirit Songs."

Anyone requiring more information may call 223-4217.

A different ball game in Congress

It's going to be a different ball game.

Republicans have already begun to make the changes they promised they would if the voters turned over control of the House of Representatives to their party.

We have voted to cut committee staffs by a third.

Three House committees will be eliminated in the 104th Congress. The three should have been taken off the books years ago. They are the District of Columbia Committee, the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee and the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Twenty-five subcommittees will be eliminated.

All committees, with the exceptions of the Appropriations and Government Oversight, will be held to a new limit of five subcommittees.

There will be a restructuring of other committees. All committees will be open to the public. An example of the Democrats opposition to committee openness is best given by the House Ways and Means Committee, of which I am a member. There have been times when the committee chairman even refused to permit Republican members to take part when the committee was drafting legislation. We weren't allowed in the room.

Taxpayers will no longer be forced to pay the expenses of 28 caucuses and study groups. This will save $5 million a year while cutting 96 government jobs.

Now cut off from taxpayer funding are such well-known groups as the Congressional Black Caucus and the Travel and Tourism Caucus. It was the task of these groups to provide important information to members in special areas. While the information may have been helpful, the taxpayer should not have paid the cost.

Caucuses and study groups may still be organized by members. No longer, however, may they be supported by the taxpayer.

The House reorganization is the most significant in almost half a century.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Check product

Editor:

Once again an unfounded attack has been leveled against BEST for its opposition to the latest ACHS Dist. 117 tax increase request. It accuses BEST of "lies and half-truths." This slanted and distorted perspective is nothing more than a simple case of the "pot calling the kettle black."

This attack was authored by a member of the teaching staff which portrays himself to speak for the entire staff. It is doubtful he does. It should be mentioned that this individual is not merely a teacher, but a union representative which he carefully fails to mention within his tirade. To be sure, the union (now working without a contract) is seeking to negotiate the best possible agreement for its members. That is his job. Readers deserve to know, however, all the motives which may be engaged.

During the last referendum drive, BEST put the question, "What have we gotten for our money?"

The Dist. 117 staff points to some improvements such as math scores being up by 11 points, and for this the math department should be complimented. But this encouraging news must be tempered by other data such as the IGAP (Ill. Goal Assessment Programs) results. There is nothing "half true" about the following statistics which BEST attained from the state superintendent's office.

Attendance: 91 percent—among the worst in 17 Lake Co. public schools. Graduation rate: 85.7 percent—among the lowest in 17 Lake Co. public schools, and worst in ACHS history. Reading: Down one point, with 19 percent of ACHS students failing to meet state mandated goals. Mathematics: Up 11 points—but despite this, 12 percent of ACHS students failed to meet state mandated goals. Writing: Down one-half point, with 39 percent of ACHS students failing to meet state mandated goals. Science: Down three points, with 17 percent of ACHS students failing to meet state mandated goals. Social science: Down 13 points, with 12 percent of ACHS students failing to meet state mandated goals. ACT (American College Testing): ACHS ranks 11th of 17 Lake Co. public schools. Students taking ACT tests: The 59.1 percent level ranks ACHS among the lowest in Lake County.

ACHS teachers are reported to have been "pleased with improving IGAP test results."

Unlike buying cars, the taxpayer cannot stop "buying" (or rather, paying for) public education. Likewise, the taxpayer has little power to force Dist. 117 to improve its finished product. The message being sent Dist. 117 is that BEST will be supporting no new taxes for salaries and benefits until substantive improvements are made. The quality will come out before new taxes go in. A freeze on salaries and benefits is not an unreasonable recommendation in light of the poor product being produced.

It is also suggested another Japanese business method be employed in Dist. 117. Make cuts starting from the top—that is in upper management. This would send a message the taxpayers need to hear. Whining such as the recent letter from Dist. 117 "teachers" will only strengthen the resolve of taxpayers who are paying the bill.

fish in the Chain O' Lakes. "The public perception has changed for the better since Karen Kabbes came on board," she said. Schnoor also credited Chairman Dr. William Dam and the directors.

"We don't want to go back to the old days and the old ways," warned Schnoor.

Bill Holliman from the McHenry County Defenders, along with the secretary of that group, said he was "appalled" by portions of a letter written by Woerner in which he asks for Kabbes resignation.

Others, including John Rogner of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services, spoke on behalf of Kabbes. Jonites also read a letter from James K. Bland, director of Integrated Lakes Management.

When it was Woerner's turn to defend himself, he stressed that Thompson, the man he said asked him to run for director, had nothing to do with the letter whatsoever.

He said the three-page letter was not intended to get out of the hands of the officials. He states "Through dirty politics Bill Dam was voted in as Chairman." He also said, "Ever since Dr. Bill and Mrs. Kabbes have taken over, the morale of the employees have declined to what I assess to be lower than whale dung on the bottom of the ocean."

Woerner went on to say that he was upset about the section of the Fox River in McHenry County which he represents. "Just band-aid situations. Very little done last year down river, no permits," he said.

And when he asks why, he said, "All I get from your office Karen, is verbal bureaucratic B.S." Further down in the letter he asks for Kabbes resignation, and then explains if she's not gone, he "will be unavailable to run for the April election."

Woerner said that this letter was intended solely as a scare tactic, to "use this as a guide." The director explained, "I have very high regard for Karen." In the end when the board took a vote of confidence, Woerner voted "yes" for Kabbes.

Thompson, however, voted "no." Thompson didn't say much at the meeting, but on the phone he explained his stand. The 10-year Agency director said it is "nothing personal" against Kabbes. "In fact, I like her," he said. But Thompson does not "like" her salary.

At the meeting, Chairman Dam announced Kabbes does receive $60,000 per year, but the former chief engineer for the Lake County Stormwater Management Agency, and 15-year employee of IDOT Water Resource Agency, is well worth it, he explained.

Dam said Kabbes has saved the Agency over $18,000 in 18 months time. The chairman noted under the former leadership of the Agency, $92,000 in legal fees were tallied up, not to mention 42 separate bar bills from the Dobyn's House in McHenry.

On the contrary, said Dam, Kabbes worked hard at writing and applying for "numerous grants." He said some of her accomplishments include balancing budgets that undergo public hearing; dredging schedules determined through public hearings; obtaining proper work permits from all federal, state and local governmental agencies, including an unprecedented 10-year maintenance work permit granted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Grants were also obtained through the work of Kabbes, said Dam, including those for Shoreline Protections, Grass Lake Water Quality Improvement, and Wetland and Wildlife Habitat Restoration.

Before the new executive director, the Agency's rapport with other entities, was not as good, said Dr. Dam. Now the Waterway Agency sits down along with the Department of Conservation, and discusses plans.

Kabbes worked each day at the Agency while pregnant, up until the day before her baby was born a few months ago. She is back at work now, handling her regular responsibilities.

Thompson said he feels Kabbes is being held up on a pedestal when she shouldn't be. "Personally, I think she could do a better (job) one for the money," said Thompson.

He, like Woerner, is concerned that their people in the McHenry area are not able to benefit from dredging projects that have taken place in the northern section of the river and lakes. Dam said permits have been applied for in Nunda Township and the Algonquin area.

Chairman Dam explained he's glad the Agency isn't like it used to be. He said during Thompson's tenure as chairman, Thompson secured the appointment of Al Moltrum as Executive Director. "Moltrum was subsequently indicted for embezzling more than $35,000 of Agency funds," said Dr. Dam.

uninjured in the accident. Fortunately for the family, James was able to keep control of the car after being struck, thereby reducing potentially greater injuries.

"He is an outstanding officer," said Del Re. "He has been with the department since May of 1986. This accident has affected us greatly. We really open our hearts to the family."

So far, the Illinois State Police have been unable to locate the driver of the salvage truck. Del Re says the driver could face a variety of charges.

The Lathams have three children: Jessica, 4; Julie, 6; and Katie, 9 years old. They reside in Antioch.

Jessica has already undergone surgery at Cook County Hospital, but is facing numerous other operations. "The good news is she was able to open her other eye on Saturday," said a friend of the family, Anne Culhane.

Anyone wishing to send a donation to the family to help with costs can send a check to the Jessica Latham Fund at the State Bank of Antioch, 440 W. Lake Street, Antioch, Ill. 60002, Attn: Trust Department or the First Midwest Bank, 214 Washington Street, Waukegan, Ill. 60085, Attn: Trust Fund.

expense on our budget," said Galantha. "It is not paid out of the County Board budget. It falls on our department."

The study would provide information to residents about potential costs, problem areas, and even the feasibility of sewers in Antioch Township. Galantha assured the audience a request for the study would, in no way, commit residents to anything. "Absolutely not," said Galantha. "Associations would not be committing to anything."

To get the ball rolling, the group was told letters from organized subdivisions and homeowners associations requesting a study are all that is needed. Those homeowners not residing in an organized area were also encouraged to send a letter to Galantha indicating their interest.

A study of the area could take anywhere from six months to a year to complete. Galantha cited topography, narrowness of streets, the extensive distances, geology, and other factors would add to the complexity of a proposed sewer hook-up with the County. "It is my gut feeling this is not going to be an easy area to service," he said.

Overall, the group seemed to feel positively about the study, although cautious about the financing if, indeed, sewers become a possibility for the area.

"I don't see why anyone wouldn't want the study," said Skvarce. Martini agreed, "The feasibility study really makes sense."

Osmond, while agreeing the study made sense, voiced some concerns about the payment options, especially the establishment of a special service district. Particularly in light of the problems incurred with the Loon Lake special service district. However, Galantha said it was premature to discuss costs and financing until the feasibility study has been completed.

Anyone wishing to send a letter of interest can write to Lake County Public Works, 650 Winchester Road, Libertyville, IL 60048, Attn: Martin Galantha, Superintendent.

Antioch loss adds fuel to fire against rival Libertyville

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

In what was described as the showcase in dual meets between North Suburban Conference grapplers, Antioch was nipped by nemesis Libertyville in a grueling wrestling meet.

Antioch's front four dominated in the opening contests. The Dyer brothers, Lucas and Justin, pinned their opponents at the 1:49 and 1:03 marks respectively.

Matt Hlinak defeated Brian Farr 15-0 at 119 pounds, while Steve Zalapi downed Dan Cysewski 13-7 at 125 pounds.

"The front four all came away with decisive victories," said Antioch Coach Ted Sieckowski.

Coach Sieckowski praised Jason Krause for his effort against state-ranked Tony Carlsen in the 130-pound class. Krause lost 4-0 in a close match.

"Jason Krause wrestled a fine match. He did as good as can be expected," Sieckowski said. "He frustrated Carlsen by really taking control of the match. We view that match as a victory."

Libertyville's Brian Devanie defeated James Patterson 14-5 at 140 before Antioch's Jim Stevens nipped Jason Rizzolo 3-2.

In what Sieckowski considered the dual meet's turning point, Jason Breen lost in overtime 6-5 to Randy Hall, and Greg Laube was pinned at 5:40.

"Greg Laube frustrated his opponent for five minutes and 30 seconds until he got into a brutal cradle," Sieckowski said.

He added, "Sometimes the breaks go our way, sometimes they don't go our way. I would say we are two as evenly matched dual teams as there can be. We're strong where they're not, and they are strong where we're not."

Down the stretch, Antioch's Brian Maike defeated Justin Trobec 8-3 at 171. Both Tim Ciznauskas and Jake Nathan were pinned.

"They all wrestled well. The flames of competitiveness have been fueled by this loss," Sieckowski said. "It will definitely be interesting come tournament time."

Antioch, however, bounced back the following day at the Buffalo Grove Tournament. Seven Antioch wrestlers advanced to the placement rounds, and Antioch took second in the eight-team meet. State-ranked Lyons Township was first.

Lucas Dyer was the tournament champ at 103, and Justin Dyer took third at 112.

"They collectively pulled up their boot straps after Friday night's loss," Sieckowski said. "The kids recovered better than I did. They wrestled hard and will continue to work hard to win."

Sieckowski predicted Thursday's dual meet against Lake Forest to be another conference stellar.

"Lake Forest is tough exactly where we are tough," Sieckowski said. "We're really going to have to be focused."

Following Lake Forest, Antioch travels to compete in the Glenbrook South Tournament Friday night. The Sequoits will be hoping to improve upon last year's fourth-place finish there.

Rams dominate Grant, 68-59

Grayslake High earned a two-for-one deal when it came to basketball wins.

The Rams learned they earned a forfeit win over Round Lake due to a conference ruling then went out and dominated Grant 68-59 in Fox Lake.

The Rams head into a Dec. 16 home game with Marian Central in first-place in the Northwest Suburban Conference at 4-0, 7-1 overall.

Mendrala scored 32 points to lead the Rams. John Parr keyed the inside game with 16 points.

The Rams simply pulled away from the Bulldogs from the tip. Grayslake led by 7 after one, by 10 at halftime and that increased to 19 by the third quarter's end.

The Rams nearly fell victim to the bug-a-boo of late perimeter game. Grant made four three-pointers in the final 8 minutes. Joe Carter had 15 points for Grant, Dave Stone had 14 and Mike Nelson 12.

Grayslake is at Mundelein Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Antioch drops conference game to Libertyville

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Antioch's boys basketball team knows it can compete with its tough North Suburban Conference foes, but hasn't yet played a consistent four-quarter game to walk away with a conference win.

The Sequoits suffered their third straight NSC loss and handed Libertyville its first conference victory in a 56-51 battle.

"We just didn't shoot very well in the second and third quarter," said Coach Jeff Dresser. "We just can't sustain it (consistency) the whole game. That's the perplexing thing right now."

Antioch built a 12-7 first-quarter lead, but Libertyville's Chad Lee scored 10 of his 19 points in the second quarter to help the Wildcats climb on top 29-20 at halftime.

"We've just got to make the easy plays. That's how you win games," Dresser said. "I think some of the guys have been trying to do too much."

Kevin Geraghty led the Sequoits with 15 points.

"Kevin shot quite well for us. He's beginning to feel good out there," Dresser said of his junior guard.

Libertyville led throughout the second half, but Antioch showed signs of coming back when Kevin Eckenstahler (8 points) trimmed the lead to 38-34 late in the third quarter.

"Kevin Eckenstahler, on and off, has done a good job for us," said Dresser.

Older brother Eric Eckenstahler (10 points) added a little excitement in the final minute of play when he nailed a three-pointer and stuffed the hoop for two more to cut the lead to 52-49. Libertyville's Lee, however, secured the victory with free throws in the final seconds.

"We couldn't capitalize on their mistakes, and they capitalized on ours," Dresser said.

One of the highlights of the game was the return of senior center Dave Lawrence, who was out nursing an injured hand. He snatched four rebounds and added five points. "Dave is someone we need down the line," Dresser said.

Although the Sequoits fell to 0-3 in the conference and 3-3 overall, Dresser said his players realize they have been playing their conference opponents close. The North Suburban Conference boasts a well-balanced offering of teams.

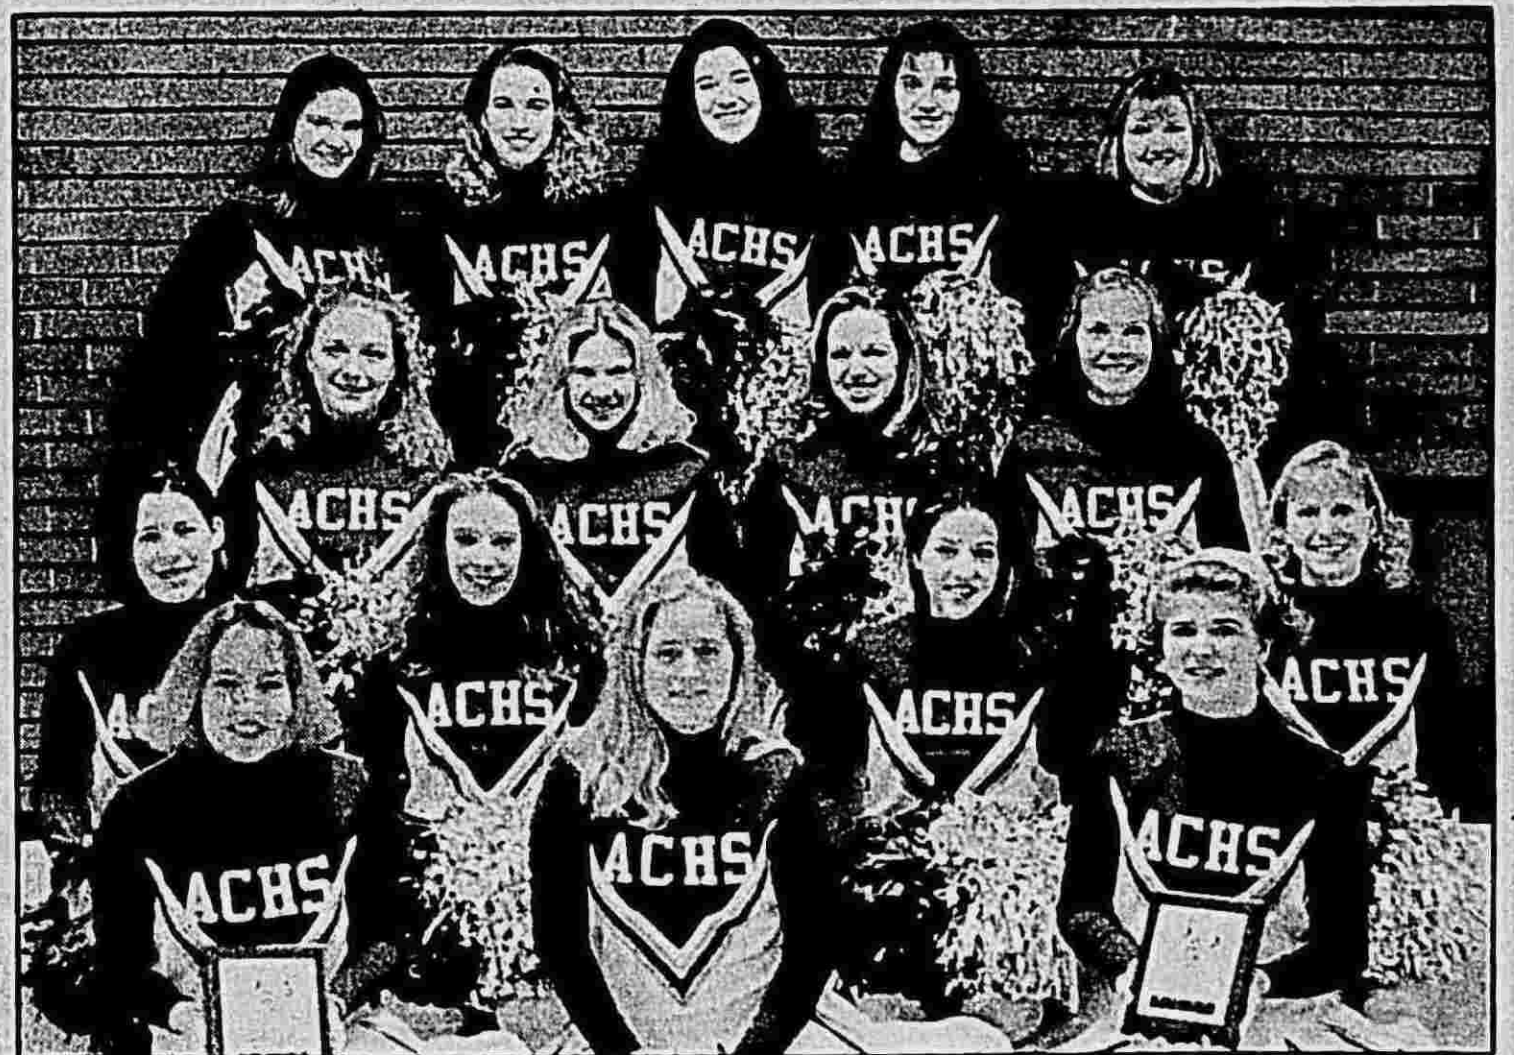

"You can't take any games for granted," Dresser said. "Everybody's got to be ready for everybody every night."

Antioch will be making its final trip to Fenton in a Friday night game. Fenton will no longer be in the conference after this season.

"We've got some time to work out our problems. It should be a good week of practice," Dresser said.

Rams' Kerns gains honor; WTHS' Ray, Oldham win

Grayslake and Warren High wrestlers ventured to Wheeling to find out how they measured up against some of the area's best grapplers early in the season.

Led by Joe Kerns' honor as the meet's most outstanding wrestler, the Rams and the Blue Devils showed they could compete in some weight classes, but did not have the depth to vie for the team title Saturday.

Kerns won by a fall in 4:27 to capture the 145 pound title. The win increased the senior's record to 12-0.

"The closest anyone has come to him this season has been a 10-point loss. He has a huge heart," Rams Coach Erick Skoog said.

Kerns won by a fall in just :49 seconds in the first round.

That set up the third match against Fell this year. The two split Greco and Freestyle victories in the off-season.

"But Joe is not satisfied with the wins or rankings," Skoog said.

"I was very surprised," Kerns said of the honor.

Performing well from the bottom position was a key for Kerns.

"I want to place in the top three at sectional (and make state). That has been my roadblock for three years now," Kerns said.

The Rams finished last in the eight-team meet with 50 points, but the effort concluded a successful week. The Rams downed Wauconda 38-30 and St. Edward 36-30 for a 5-3 dual meet record in a rare double win the night before. "Last year, we scored 34 points here, so we are getting better," Skoog said.

Ed Pak reached the title round at 160 pounds but lost a 9-3 decision to Mike cull of meet champ Lincolnway.

"Ed had a tough title match. He has to work on his flurries," Skoog said.

Warren edged Lake Zurich 73-71 to take home sixth-place honors.

Mike Ray at 140 pounds and Kevin Oldham at 152 won titles for the Blue Devils.

Ray downed Chris Cassult of Lake Zurich 9-1 in a major decision in the title round. "I knew I was working out hard and had done more work than he did. I had intended to win by pin in the first round, but won by technical fall," Ray said.

Oldham won 13-1 in the title at 152 over Andy Valcik of Carl Sandburg. Oldham had to overcome some nagging football injuries. He downed Mark Potempa of Lake Zurich in a pin in 5:17.

"Mike and Kevin both wrestled really well. They just work hard, but a few of our kids are in that boat," Warren Coach Mark Tiffany said.

Ray improved to 12-1 while Oldham bettered his mark to 13-3.

Rod Dukowitz took third at 145 pounds for Warren, beating Steve Gifford of Lake Zurich 5-3. Drew Sabor reached the title round at heavyweight, but lost to Lou Aguirre in a fall in 1:30.

The Blue Devils had a successful dual week, starting the conference season with a 46-21 win over Stevenson and a 75-0 win over North Chicago. Dukowitz, Ray and Sabor gained pins in the win over the Patriots as Warren improved to 6-1.

Warren battled Mundelein Dec. 15, and is at the Glenbrook South meet Dec. 16-17. It is the first time Warren is in the 16-team field.

The Rams held "Grant Week" to be inspired for the Dec. 15 showdown with one of two teams to beat them in Northwest Suburban Conference action last year.

Team defense gives Lady Sequoits conference win

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Four solid quarters of team defense proved to open up offensive opportunities down the stretch as the Antioch girls basketball team defeated Fenton 41-26 in North Suburban Conference action.

"Anytime you can go on the road in the conference and win, it's a big win," said Coach Dave Woods. The victory improved the Lady Sequoits' conference record to 3-1 and its overall record to 5-4.

Antioch and Fenton played close for 24 minutes. Antioch led 16-13 at half-time and 24-22 after three quarters, but the Sequoits opened up a 17-4 scoring drive in the fourth quarter to seal the victory.

"Our defense in the fourth quarter created a lot of opportunities for us," Woods said. "We trapped really smart."

Seniors Rachel Hauser (11 points) and Lindsay Hladnik (7 points) led what turned out to be a balanced scoring attack. "They both came on strong in the fourth quarter," Woods noted. They were credited with 8 of Antioch's 17 points in the fourth quarter.

Junior Erin O'Connell added 5 points, while Dana Pierson and Mary Ipsen contributed with 4 points a piece as well as a number of key rebounds.

"Mary and Dana did exceptionally well on the boards. They boxed out really well," Woods said.

He maintains that it was the team's defensive that proved to be the decisive factor in the contest.

"We held them without a field goal in the fourth quarter. The girls played tremendous team defense," Woods said.

Lang is defensive lineman for Iowa Wesleyan football

Derke Lang of Antioch, is a member of the Iowa Wesleyan College Tiger football team this fall.

The 6-foot, 4-inch, 235 pound, defensive lineman is a freshman at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lang of Antioch.

The Tigers, under the direction of head coach Pat Poore, finished the season with an 8-3 record.

Lake Villa athletes honored for support of Special Olympics

Chicago Special Olympics and the Chicago Marathon, two world-class Chicago institutions, honored their athletes during the Children's Special Olympics Invitational Ice Skating Competition.

A highlight of the ice-skating competition was a special thank you honoring the 10 Chicago Marathon runners who earned more than $1,000 each in pledges to benefit Special Children's Charities. Warren H. Otto, one of the runners, walked away with the grand prize, a five-day vacation at the Hilton Hawaiian Village in Waikiki Beach.

Duane Dritelein from Lake Villa, was one of the 10 runners who earned more than a $1,000 for the Special Children's Charities. Along with the mental preparation to compete in this marathon, he also demonstrated great ambition collecting his pledges.

Powerhouse wins award

ZION—The Power House, ComEd's museum of energy located in Zion, has been awarded a Certificate of Merit in the category of Distinguished Building, 1994 Design Excellence Awards Program of the American Institute of Architects Chicago. The AIA Chicago awards are among the most coveted in the country because of the intense competition. The Power House was the only museum to receive design recognition this year from the AIA Chicago. The Power House, designed by Tigerman McCurry Architects Chicago, is dedicated to educating the general public about the history of energy. The museum has been so recognized because the building's design enhances the mission of the mixed media exhibits, the space for temporary exhibits, and the theater that showcases an engaging audio-visual presentation on energy. The 400-foot-long museum, dramatically situated on the shoreline of Lake Michigan, is built in three parts with contrasting "constructive" and "deconstructive" elements. The Power House is open Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call 746-7080 for information.

Billiards hall selected on top

VERNON HILLS—Slate Street Billiards of Vernon Hills, has announced its ranking by Billiards Digest as one of the top 10 billiard rooms in the nation. Billiards Digest, in its annual Architectural and Design Competition, selects the 10 best new billiard rooms in the U.S. This year, Slate Street Billiards, the newest and most up-scale billiards room, bar, and restaurant in the Midwest, was chosen as the sixth rated new facility in the United States. Billiards Digest, one of the billiard industries leading trade publications, reviewed all of the new billiard rooms opened in the 1994 competition year. Steady hiring trend indicated VERNON HILLS—Lake County employers foresee a pleasant job climate this winter, according to the First Quarter Employment Outlook Survey report issued by Manpower Inc. Higher staffing levels are anticipated for the January/February/March period by 20 percent of businesses polled, 7 percent are preparing for workforce cutbacks and 73 percent plant to make no adjustments. It is not unusual for employers to express hiring reservations at this time of year, mainly due to winter-related production slowdowns and post-holiday staffing reductions. The current outlook is similar to three months ago, when 27 percent of businesses said they would increase their employment rolls while 13 percent expected fewer workers. A year ago, 21 percent predicted increases and 14 percent forecast decreases.

Seniors make new friends, meet old at Lilac

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Lilac Apartments, a senior housing complex in Fox Lake, has not only earned the dual reputation of affordable yet deluxe living, but is in the midst of celebrating their first year anniversary.

The 105 unit, one and two-bedroom structure located in a treed area off of Rollins Rd., is truly deemed "affordable housing." That is opposed to subsidized housing, said manager of the complex Nance Prah-Sterling, potential residents must meet medium income guidelines of Lake County. The entire rent is paid by the residents, she added.

Since last December when dignitaries gathered for the ribbon cutting ceremony to open the totally handicapped-accessible building, many seniors have taken advantage of the units and have moved in.

When Francis Jensen moved in shortly after the complex was opened, she had no trouble making friends. Jensen has always been outgoing, and holds title to the organist for Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Ingleside for the past 36-years.

Then one day, two weeks ago, Jensen was downstairs in the large lounge enjoying the fireplace and piano, when she had to do a double-take of the person who was coming in through the Longtime friends, Francis Jensen and Dorothy Scharfnorth met each other at the Lilac Apartments after years of not knowing the other's whereabouts. They love to visit with each other, including an occasional sing-along on the piano. Francis has been the organist at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church for the past 36-years. front door.

"I think both of our mouths (dropped) open," said Jensen of her newfound, yet old-time friend Dorothy Scharfnorth. The two lost track of each other and hadn't seen one another in years.

Scharfnorth said she immediately said to herself, "Hey, wait a minute! What's Francis doing here?"

Salon offers people chance to make 'chanj'

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

When Cyndi Palbicke lost her husband five years ago, she felt she had to make a change. And she did. Now, she has given others the opportunity to make that change as well.

Palbicke is part owner of a comprehensive salon on Rte. 21 in Gurnee known as Make That Chanj. Before starting the business last year along with part-owner Jennifer Helgren, Palbicke undertook an eight-month research project to narrow in on the type of full featured salon people would want, but did not have in one location.

What the two came up with is a 2,500 square-foot business that actually contains several salons in one, each with its own creative identity. The hair salon is the Chop Shop, the nail salon is Get Nailed, the skin care salon is Face It, the body care department is The Bod Squad, and the tanning area is known as Getting Bronzed. Each station also has its own fashion, depending on the tastes of the stylist. The children's station is complete with down-sized equipment and fun items to keep them occupied.

"Sameness in salons lowers creativity and individualism," Palbicke said.

The antique-ish design of the work stations does not conflict with their portability. Nothing in the salon is nailed down, so it can be moved or rearranged to accommodate special events or parties.

Francis Becht

Scharfnorth was a longtime neighbor of Jensen's when they lived in Round Lake Park. She took care of Jensen's grandson, Frank Hernandez, for years, while Jensen, now 83, went off to work at the Allstate Insurance Company.

Scharfnorth was instrumental in teaching the little boy how to eat, and later how to ride a bicycle.

The two were elated to find each other again after a 37-year long friendship. Now, they're neighbors at Lilac. Jensen lives on the first floor, and Scharfnorth has an apartment on the third floor.

Jensen said her old pal isn't the only one she's met since moving in to Lilac. She said she was tickled to find out a man whose daughter she drove to work nearly every day, also resided a few floors up from her.

Both women agree, however, that everyone at Lilac is very neigh-borly, and sooner or later you're going to make new friends.

Francis Becht, 84, moved to Lilac exactly one month to the day of this interview last week.

Becht had been living at another senior complex in Rochester, Minnesota since 1981. When her husband passed away, her son George and daughter-in-law Patricia, residents of Fox Lake, persuaded her to be closer to them now that she was alone.

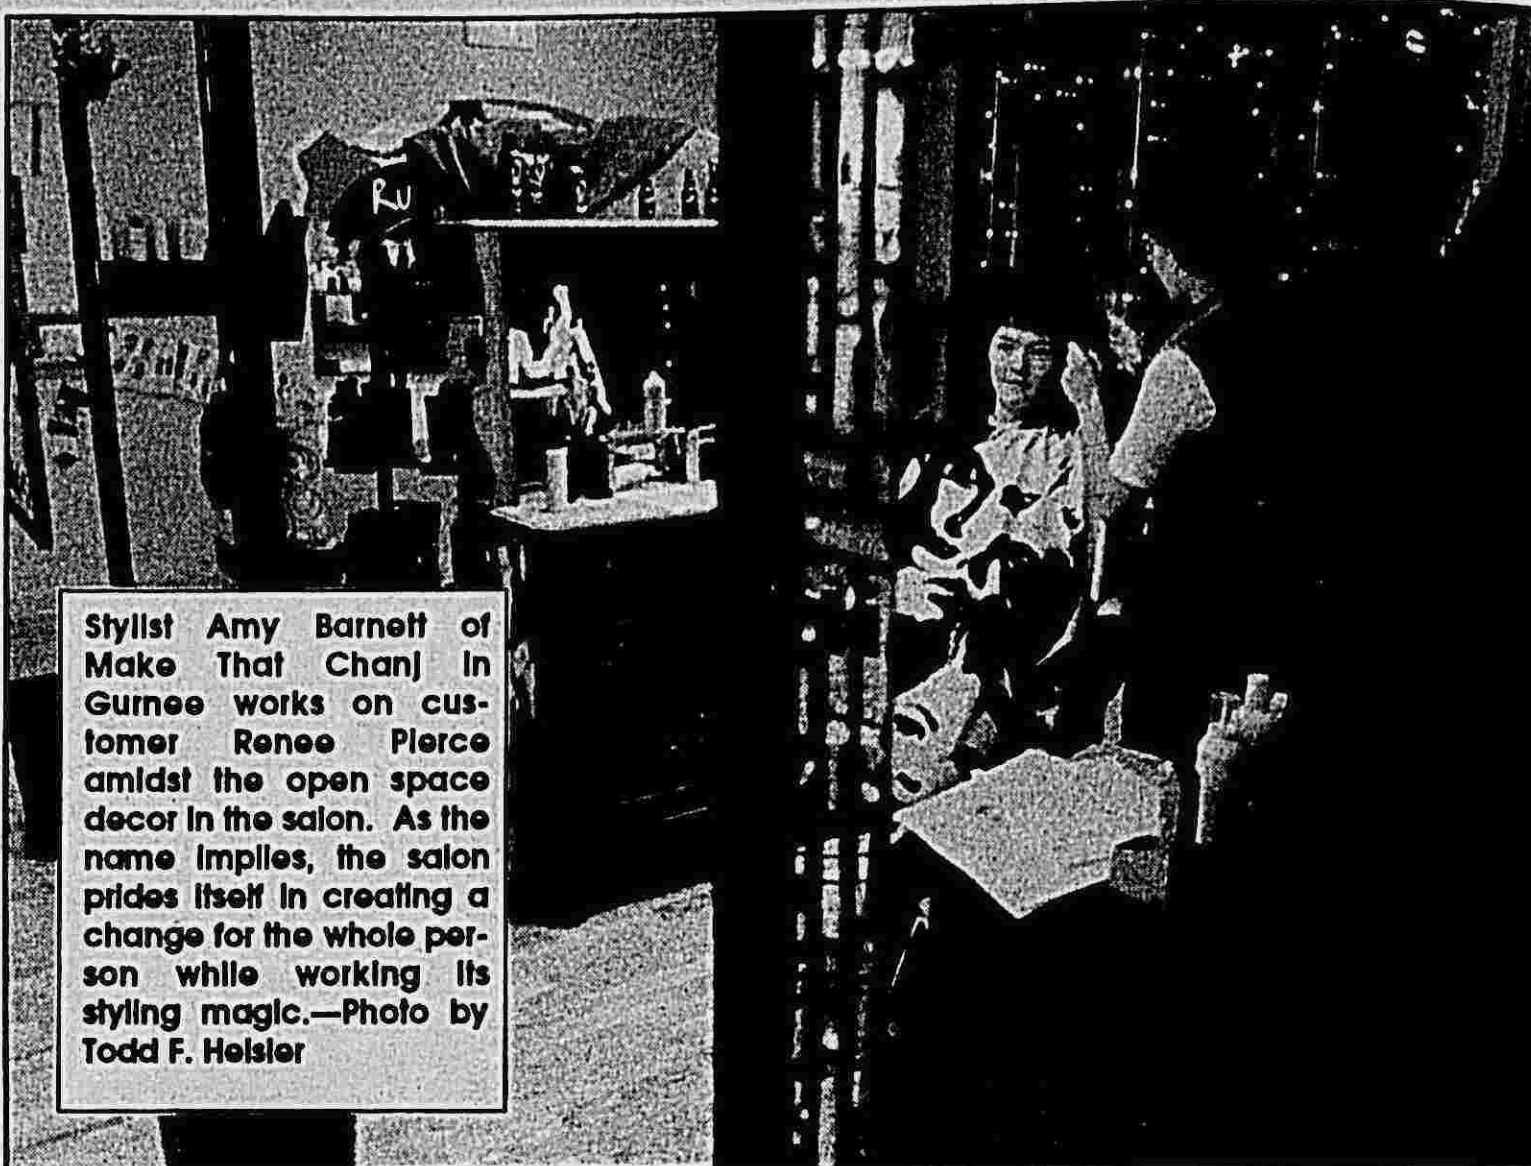

Becht made her long-time home the Madonna Towers, run by the Oblate Fathers in Rochester, but thought about what her family said. "I considered it for quite a while," said Becht, who finally came out and looked at the Lilac Apartments.

She liked them and soon moved in. Becht chose a two-bedroom and has made one room into a den/TV room.

Becht said she likes the kitchen area of her apartment. She can reach to the top of her cupboards comfortably without stretching or climbing on a chair.

While living in Rochester, Becht, originally from Manhattan, New York, described how active she was in various programs at the senior complex. "I intend to become active here (as well)," said Becht. "I just can't see myself sitting around. I never did, and I never will."

Becht took a seat on the board at her former apartment building, was instrumental in teaching foreign students to speak English while they helped the seniors plant flowers and plants at the complex; and also coordinated an effort to collect over $25,000 in pennies donated to the Oblate Fathers orphanage in Brazil.

Chanj

Palbickie hosts little girls' birthday parties where they actually get styled and fixed up as part of the festivities.

The research uncovered another critical consumer demand. A must in today's society is for business to be open when customers want it to be. To solve that demand, every stylist at Make That Chanj must offer one evening until midnight. Palbickie said it has been a welcome business practice for the busy lifestyles of today's men and women.

"People come in their jammies and then go home and go to bed afterward," Palbickie said.

Of course, all the research and statistics would be for naught if the salon did not offer quality services. The owners have tackled that issue with education and training. Ongoing training is continually taking place in house. In fact, Make That Chanj gets many new customers who come asking for help with problems created by other salons.

"Most mistakes happen because of carelessness and lack of education," Palbickie said.

For the future Palbickie wants to be certified by the American Cancer Society to enable her to work more with cancer and hospice patients. She feels they benefit greatly from making the change her services provide. Being friendly is something all the stylists must pride themselves in. It is actually part of their initial job interview, to determine if they have an aptitude to be friendly to their customers and know them by name whenever possible.

"We're known as the nice ones," Palbickie said.

Make That Chanj is located on Rte. 21, in the Spinney Run

Plaza one quarter mile north of Rte. 120. They can be reached at 362-MAKE.

Tips for holiday home showing

Holidays are that wonderful time of the year when we drag out all of our nostalgic seasonal decorations to enjoy again. If you are selling your home, this can present some very positive aspects to enhancing the property and the good feelings that generally accompany the holiday season. If you enjoy exterior holiday lighting, be sure to use the lighting as an accent, instead of a spectacle level. Too many flashing lights, animated reindeer and a waving santa are festive, but may not convey the elegance of your home's exterior for a prospective buyer.

Reserve the extras for next year's new home, and keep the lighting to a minimum. Avoid substituting colored bulbs in your doorway fixture, as it will not provide enough light for the walkway or using the key for entrance when the home is shown. If the weather has been inclement, be sure your walkways are clear of hazardous ice and snow, should your holiday season be "white." A simple wreath on your door or ribbons on your mailbox will keep your home in the spirit of things without overdoing it. Remember, that the holiday season is limited, and to keep your home current, you will need to remove all holiday decorations immediately after the New Year.

If your home has a fireplace, you can really set the holiday scene with a fire and the traditional stockings in a row. This offers a very warm and tranquil feeling. The problems start when the fire has gone out and just the ashes remain. Depending on the wood used for fuel, the ashes can produce a very unpleasant odor which needs to be removed as soon as possible.

The fragrances of baking act as another positive anchor when the home is being shown. The distressed kitchen, however, is not. If your kids are into holiday baking, ask that the showing be scheduled after you've had a chance to clean up.

The buyer won't be able to appreciate your well staged kitchen through piles of flour and sticky frosting. It is totally appropriate to request a showing that is convenient for you. If the buyer is from out of town, and this is the only opportunity to view the home, then the decision is up to you.

The activity for buyers in a holiday market is unpredictable. Depending on where you live, and how close to corporate transfers, there is no rule of thumb. Most companies will authorize the transfer after the holidays, however, the previewing definitely occurs before and during the season.

The real estate market never takes a holiday, although the traffic flow is slowed during the height of the season. Just remember that houses that look their best, smell fresh and are easy to preview are the ones that sell, all other factors being equal. The results could be the best gift of all, a house marked "sold!"

Mortgage brokers take bite out of rising interest rates

As the Federal Reserve Board continues to raise its "discount interest rate" in an effort to combat rising inflation rates, the nations' leading banks, led by First Chicago Corp., continue to raise their prime lending rates. The Fed's most recent rate hike of 0.75 percent on its "discount interest rate" (amount it charges banks for loans) has pushed the prime rate up to 8.5 percent—the highest level in more than three years. What's more, Robert Heady, publisher of "Bank Rate Monitor," predicts that interest rates on fixed-rate mortgages will reach 10 percent next year.

Despite fluctuating prime interest and home mortgage loan rates, millions of Americans continue to buy and sell houses, townhomes and condominiums. After all, people still need a new, bigger, smaller, or simply a different domicile as they: change marital status, start a family, get transferred, or have their kids grow up and move out on their own. "Buying a home is still the average American's best investment option because it's the only form of savings that is subsidized by the U.S. government," said Tuck Marshall, president of the Illinois Assn. of Mortgage Brokers.

Since consumers can't predict or control interest rates, the best thing a new home shopper can do is work with an independent mortgage broker who can help find the home loan package that best suits their needs. "Most consumers ask a lot of questions about rates because they get so much media attention, but interest rates are only part of the 'home mortgage' story," Marshall said.

Along with "shopping around" to an expanded number of mortgage lenders to help people find the best available interest rate, qualified mortgage brokers can help provide loans with flexible underwriting and down payment guidelines, extended payment terms, enhanced loan-to-value parameters, and expanded debt ratio qualifications.

"Last year, mortgage brokers performed over 60 percent of all residential mortgage transactions in Illinois, and more than 50 percent of home mortgages nationwide," Marshall said.

Santa may have rosacea, lifestyle changes needed

Allegations that Santa Claus' red nose and cheeks were due to drinking too much spiked eggnog were laid to rest today when the negative results of a blood alcohol test were released. "There was no alcohol in his blood," stated the medical examiner. His test did, however, register unusually high levels of gingerbread and hot chocolate, officials reported.

Rumors had surfaced when several members of a literary society had noticed his "Cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry." Ironically, a physician associated with the National Rosacea Society may have the answer to Santa's puzzling appearance.

"It looks like a clear cut case of rosacea to me," commented Dr. Jerome Z. Litt, assistant clinical professor of dermatology at Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine.

Rosacea, a common skin condition of middle-aged men and women, is characterized by facial redness in the area across the nose and the cheeks, and sometimes the chin. As the disease worsens, particularly in men, the nose may become red and bulbous from excess tissue.

According to the National Rosacea Society, a Gallup survey showed that 67 percent of Americans may associate the symptoms of rosacea with heavy consumption of alcohol. In actuality, while alcohol may aggravate the condition, rosacea symptoms may be just as severe in a teetotaler.

Those who suspect they may suffer from rosacea are advised to see a dermatologist for diagnosis and medical treatment.

Information on the disease, which is estimated to affect one in 20 American adults, is available from the National Rosacea Society, 220 South Cook Street, Suite 201, Barrington, ILL 60010, telephone 382-8971.

Club suggest ways for healthy holidays

The busy holiday period is here and the pages of your daily planner are rapidly filling with activities and plans. You know you should be starting a fitness plan or sticking with the one you have established. You also know that becoming physically fit and staying fit can enhance the quality—and quantity—of the years ahead. However, you can't seem to find enough time to make fitness work for you. Finding time for fitness means setting priorities, sneaking extra activity into daily routines, and scheduling fitness time as you would other important events.

The staff at Centre Club, Condell Medical Center's fitness complex, 200 Golf Rd., Libertyville, offers a few suggestions to fit fitness into your busy days:

Make fitness a priority: Ask an expectant parent about the preferred sex of their baby-to-be. The answer? "It doesn't matter, as long as it's healthy." Health is the most precious quality we can wish on a newcomer to the world and deciding to stay fit and healthy is our way of protecting that gift. You can become more fit by exercising just 20 to 30 minutes, three times a week. Isn't it worth your time to make fitness a priority in your life?

Activate your daily routine: Five minutes of movement here and there does add up to a more active lifestyle. To activate your daily routines, try some of these tips: take the stairs when possible (or walk a few flights and then take the elevator), park your car at the far end of the parking lot, hand-deliver messages at work rather than picking up the phone, and so on. With a little creativity, you'll find dozens of ways to increase the amount of movement in your daily routines.

Schedule time for fitness: Schedule your fitness time as you would an important meeting. Many business people have traded the "business lunch" for an exercise session at the club. It makes sense—almost half of the North American population exercises regularly. Why not mix business with pleasure? Walk on your lunch hour, or instead of a coffee break, try a stretching break. Rather than joining friends for drinks, get together for a game of softball or a vigorous walk. But what ever you do, stick to your scheduled activity.

Start today! There's no reason not to do something good for yourself by making fitness one of your daily priorities. By setting aside 20 to 30 minutes three times a week for vigorous activity, and by sneaking extra activity into your daily routines, you can become fitter, happier, and more productive. Why not start right now? What have you got to lose?

Contact Centre Club at 816-6100, ext. 5750, for information on the varied fitness programs offered for the general public.

Program discusses overeating

"If individuals only ate when they were really hungry, there would be fewer overweight people," explained Mary Speno, Ph.D., a staff psychologist at Saint Therese Medical Center.

"There are many reasons why individuals overeat other than to satisfy nutrition needs. These include depression, anxiety, boredom or using eating as a social activity. When these eating habits are so automatic, they become difficult to control causing weight problems and related health risks," she added.

This program is designed to help individuals understand and control compulsive overeating as well as learn practical strategies for developing healthier eating habits. Dr. Speno, who is also with Lake Cook Psychologists and Counseling Associates, is presenting this free lecture from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., on Jan. 11 at the medical center, 2615 Washington, Waukegan.

For more information or to register, call 244-5900.

Bereavement support groups offered at LFH

Losing a friend or relative at any age is an emotional and oftentimes devastating experience. Lake Forest Hospital offers two support groups to families who experience grieving at the loss of a loved one or a family member.

The Bereavement Support Group meets the second and fourth Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the library of Westmoreland Nursing Center, which is located on the campus of Lake Forest Hospital. For information about the Bereavement Support Group, call 234-5600, ext. 6446.

Resolve Through Sharing Bereavement Services supports parents who have lost a baby through miscarriage, ectopic pregnancy, stillbirth or newborn death. This group meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m., also in the library at Westmoreland. To speak with someone about the support group, call 234-6161.

Auxiliary help

Volunteer Anzoneita Solberg, of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 865 in Zion, is assisting hospitalized veterans through the annual Christmas Gift Shop at the North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center. Veterans select the gifts for their loved ones then have them purchased and wrapped by volunteers.

Watch what you're eating!

Holiday headaches. We all experience them to one degree or another. However, the 23 million Americans who suffer from migraine, a debilitating, biological disease, are especially at risk. For the unsuspecting migraine sufferers who monitor their diets throughout the rest of the year, the temptation to sample holiday desserts and festive beverages could prove incapacitating.

Approximately 20 percent of all migraine sufferers have a sensitivity to a specific food or foods. Unsuspecting migraine sufferers should familiarize themselves with the most common dietary triggers which can stimulate migraines. As the chart demonstrates, migraine triggers are lurking in even the most traditional of holiday fare.

The migraine trigger menu varies per individual. Not eating can also trigger migraines. Missing meals or dieting can cause low blood sugar levels, yet another migraine trigger.

Put health reform back on the agenda

The 104th Congress may be the best chance yet for refloating the issue of health care reform, so long as lawmakers don't again misread the wishes of the American people. Just as one party presented us with too much change in our health care system, there is a danger that the other party may give it too little. Some lawmakers could assume that because health care reform was not a major issue in the recent congressional campaigns, Americans no longer care. That could be a politically fatal assumption.

An election-night survey conducted for the Harvard School of Public Health and the Kaiser Family Foundation found that most Americans still want health care reform. Of the 1,200 adults questioned in the poll, 66 percent said they want changes made.

Workers are still concerned that a loss of a job means the loss of health insurance benefits. Too many workers remain locked into their jobs because they fear gaps in coverage with a new employer's health plan. Americans continue to worry that past health problems will mean no coverage or restricted coverage in the future. Few people believe that medical inflation will remain under control without fixing some basic problems in the economics of health care.

Easing those fears, however, does not require a new health care system. In California, voters defeated a single-payer proposition by an almost three-to-one margin, making it quite clear that radical change is not what they wanted. The Kaiser/Harvard survey showed that just one in four Americans wants a major overhaul of the system. Instead, what Congress should be doing is looking at the specific solutions for the specific problems.

Lawmakers can start with basic reforms in the insurance industry to eliminate pre-existing condition restrictions, and prohibit insurers from cherry-picking only the healthiest people to cover. Malpractice reforms and improvements in electronic claims processing should be addressed. Methods for encouraging cooperation, instead of competition, among hospitals must be explored in order to halt the medical technology arms race that fuels rising costs. What's called for here are step-by-step changes, but someone must take the first step.

Yes, there are other issues to be addressed in the new Congress, but few concern the American people more than acquiring and keeping affordable, quality health care. The opportunity to reach agreement on incremental improvements to the health care system may never come again. Lawmakers must push health care reform back to the top of the agenda, or risk disappointing voters and drowning in another election day sea change.

Mobile assistant

When are the mayor and the trustees in Wauconda going to wake up? We are paying an administrative assistant to be in his car all the time day and night. We never see her in the police station working. I would like the police chief to answer publicly why this is the case.

Good education

I am a senior at Round Lake High School who crossed the picket line. I am getting a good education from the substitutes. I think it is time for everyone to say enough is enough and to get back to school.

Paid own way

This is regarding 'illegal education.' What does it matter how many illegals are in the Round Lake School system? They are living in this district and their parents are paying equal fees for their education. It is no less and no more than American citizens are. If the government realizes the students are illegal, wouldn't it be cheaper to send them back to their native country? I highly doubt the $80 million mentioned in Upservice is spent strictly on the education of non-American students.

Dredged up

The waterway commission put us through a dredging fire drill on Eagle Point. They asked us to come up with some money to help them haul away silt they dredged up from the channel. The neighborhood pitched in. They said they could not do it until spring because they said they could not find a suitable site.

Poor planning

This is about the Antioch Viking cheerleading squad. It could be a good organization but the people in charge put the blame on the football coach. Was it the football coach who kept them from participating in the Grayslake cheerleading competition because of poor planning? I think not.

Stop the dying

The corner of Hunt Club and Gages Lake Roads needs a stop light. I just found out another person has died. All municipalities should get to work on this.

Drug contradictions

According to the NEA resolution F-8, the NEA recommends several procedures be used in the event of a contract impasse, such as binding arbitration. If their head association recommends this, why do the teachers of Round Lake School District 116 refuse to consider this? I also have a question about NEA resolution F-34, referring to drug and alcohol tests. The NEA believes in a drug and alcohol-free workplace. If they believe in a drug free workplace, then why do they believe mandatory drug testing of employees is unreasonable? How do they propose you get a drug free workplace without testing? The people who are generally against drug testing are the people that abuse it. If you are not afraid of it, take the test. If the NEA is contradictory, why do the teachers support this? We should have drug free teachers and they should be proud to show this to the community.

Cable me

This is to the lady in Antioch who thought she was the only one who got billed extra from cable. Everyone in Lake Villa got the extra bill. If they are changing the cable, why do they need an extra billing? I think this is a crock. I don't think they are changing anything. I think they just want more money.

Rush hour

Grand Ave. traffic in Gurnee is difficult because of the lack of stoplights and all the traffic. Who is waiting? It is just a matter of time before someone gets killed trying to rush out onto Grand Ave.

Fire them all

I think the Round Lake School board should fire the teachers and get new ones who are interested in the children and would teach them at reasonable wages. It has gone on too long. The teachers don't have any regard for the students. Take Ronald Reagan's lead with the air traffic controllers and fire them all.

Get organized

We went to the Christmas tree lighting with our granddaughter. We could not hear because of a poor PA system. We went to see the parade and waited over an hour for it to begin. We had to leave because our granddaughter got too cold. Thank you, Fox Lake, for a wonderful Thanksgiving weekend.

American changes

Mexico is not a part of America. English is our language. Do not come here and try to change our country.

Light joke

The lighting of the Christmas tree in Fox Lake was a joke. We stood in the cold waiting for the carolers to sing only to find out they were singing, but no one could hear them. Can't Fox Lake do anything right?

Fateful decision

Other countries have passed legislation prohibiting the death penalty even in the case of heinous crimes. In this case, fate has made a decision no lawmaker can change. I am from Wauconda. See LIPSERVICE page C7

Native knowledge

I am a native American. I am tired of all the people complaining about the immigrants coming into this country. They should do three things. They should learn to speak Spanish. They should be friends with the Spanish people. They should apologize to the Indians. What is happening today has already happened to the Indians. The white man came in and forced their culture and their way of life on the Indians. The next century will belong to the Hispanics. Those who do not learn Spanish will be out of place. Learn to live with it.

Read GATT

I can't believe that Senators Braun and Simon are voting for the GATT agreement. I don't believe they have even read it. It takes away the power of the United States to not do business with a country they don't want to do business with. Some of these countries are using child labor. In the next election I am going to vote for the third party. I don't care who it is.

Tanked out

I am from Antioch and I am quite concerned. Why does the village think it is a good symbol to install a full military tank in the village square? I think the officials were not thinking right when they did that. They should move to another country where there is an iron curtain and a standing wall.

School conspiracy

Is there some conspiracy going on to get people to have vouchers so they can get kids into private schools? Those schools don't pay as well as public schools. Not everyone can get into a private school. Those schools screen and test students, and only take the best qualified. Just because you can pay does not mean you can get your kids in. They only take the best.

New low

Bill Schroeder has hit a new low in his column. Now he is going to criticize the president for how he looks in a bad picture. That is not to mention that I found at least four or five misspelling in his article. Why don't you stick to talking about your grandchildren, Bill.

News tip

Lakeland Newspapers wrote an article about complaining parents whose children did not make the National Honor Society. It is too bad your paper was not smart enough to do an article on the kids who did make the National Honor Society. You should consider that article also.

Rush Jr.

After reading Bill Schroeder's comments about Mr. Clinton's photo, I thought I was reading something by Jesse Helms. It is unfortunate that people in Bill Schroeder's position use their power to sway people's public opinion about the president. It is really frustrating to have to read something like that. Why can't a guy like him let people make up their own mind. He should be named Rush. I am sure you won't print this.

Cruel act

This is to the people who abandoned the small kitten near my mailbox on Rte. 45. I took it into my home. When it saw my cats it became afraid and ran behind my house into the trees. It would have been more humane of you to take it to the animal shelter. It will now face starvation and exposure. It is a misconception that abandoned pets find a new home. They are frightened of unfamiliar surroundings. Shame on you for your cruel act.

Broken answers

This is for the person concerned with board limitations in Fox Lake. Don't worry about asking the mayor about limitations. Ask his clerk. The mayor does not even answer his own phone. If you want to ask them something, ask about the broken fire hydrants with yellow paint. That ought to get a good response.

Find a job

This is to the Antioch teaching staff who put an article in the editorial page entitled 'Excellent schools.' They don't have excellent schools. That is why they can't pass a referendum. It about time the teachers stop and realize their wages are way out of line. They think they work all summer long. They are going to hold the kids for ransom again once their contract runs out again. If the teachers don't like their jobs, they should get the hell out of here and do something else.

Thanks Lakeland

I would like to thank Lakeland Newspapers for their coverage of the Kirk Players and their performance of 'The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe.' We went to the show and had a warm and wonderful time. If it had not been for your articles before the show, we would not have known about it and me and my children would have missed it. Keep up the good work.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
Alma Rasmussen
(nee Erickson)
I can't believe it's been one year since you've been gone
God looked around His garden
And He found an empty place.
He then looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.
He put His arms around you
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering
He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never Get well on earth again.
It breaks my heart to lose you
But you didn't go alone.
For part of me went with you
The day God called you home.

Griefnotes

Grief is best managed by talking about it and expressing our feelings to those we trust. Drugs, including alcohol, limit our ability to face grief openly and serve only the non-productive goal of hiding or masking our feelings. There is no question that feelings of grief are painful and will often be difficult to face. Instead of drugs find good friends who will listen and support you as you express your feelings of grief. If you have been taking drugs and you cannot go on without them, see your physician, or a mental health worker who knows about grief. If you find yourself drinking more than usual or suffering severe stress seek help from professionals.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: As an employer in a very small office dealing in high volume service sales, I hired on a receptionist. The person I hired on was a hardship case eight months ago for which I feel she has come a long way and getting her feet planted a bit more secure in our cozy facility. Most recently a few of my sales persons have come to me complaining that several customers have claimed to call in with immediate need to speak with their reps and instead would have messages taken. While this may appear to be a normal method of doing business, in the type of business we are in, there are customers that we may not be able to reach back for hours or days and the receptionist does not understand that she should put the people on hold and inform the sales reps if they are on another line at the time. I should mention that our receptionist is a non-confrontational type of individual who is NEVER wrong. I need to find a tactful, discrete way of presenting this to her without her going off on her high horse or feeling as though she is being alienated. Our calls are important to us and now, looking back, it is making me wonder if a few deals that have been blown recently, where customers have claimed to have called in with important information, wasn't at the fault of this receptionist. What do you suggest?

A: Shoot from the hip...tell it to her the way you see it. It is not in her job description to decide which calls coming in are important or not. Make it a general rule that all customer calls will be presented to the sales representative and it will be their decision to decide if they want her to take a message. As you stated, you are a smaller sized office, which indicates it should not add strain to this person to turn around and get someone's attention to allow them to know who is on the phone. You have a business to run and while it is nice to feel that as an employer you don't want to hurt anyone's feelings or have them go off on you, there are three things to remember. 1. You are the boss and therefore should not have to put up with anyone "going off on their high horse". 2. Business is business and you must do what is best for yours. 3. Your receptionist is obviously more expendable than your sales professionals who are the core of your business. Think about it!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

ROCKFORD

The two-story Rockford, beautifully faced with brick and stone, is the ideal home for a busy family that requires a lot of living area combined with freedom of movement.

Attractive columns front the covered porch as you make your way into the vaulted entry. To the left, through double doors is a nice size den. This is the room to sit and relax with a good book, answer some letters or just savor the view that the large front window provides. More double doors connect the den to the dining room. Here, with built-ins for linen and silver, more formal meals can be taken.

The spacious kitchen, open to the second floor, is a cook's delight. The central cooking island allows free motion whether serving meals in the dining room or more casually in the skylighted nook. Nearby is a walk-in pantry with lots of shelf space. Hot snacks can also be brought into the vaulted family room, the hub of this elegant home. Here family and friends can gather in front of the built-in entertainment center while the fireplace keeps everyone warm. When the weather brightens, take the fun out on the back deck.

The lavish master suite is something to see. The plush features include vaulted ceilings, separate vanity, walk-in closet (with two options), linen storage, sitting room and a skylighted bathroom with shower, spa tub and twin basins. The sitting room opens into a modest home office, also vaulted, where unfinished work can be brought up to date.

A half-bath and convenient utility room, with access to a two car garage that house a central vacuum system and contains extra storage space, complete the first floor design.

The second floor contains two identical bedrooms, each well lit and with liberal closet space. Separating these two sleeping rooms is a full, skylighted bathroom. For the students in the house, a built-in desk is situated on the adjacent landing.

Available for a recreation/game room is the large unfinished basement. More room for storage is also at hand in the attic loft.

For a study kit of the ROCKFORD (334-050), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

How To Write A Bestseller.

Give the reader all the specifics.

Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as:

- color • size • condition
- brand name • age
- features • and benefits

Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts.

Include the price.

Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

Avoid Abbreviations.

Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW tires (white side wall) and won't take the time to figure them out.

Include phone number & hours.

Let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Run consecutive weeks.

Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your sales representative. Run your ad for at least two weeks.

The Lakeland Newspapers friendly classified advertising representatives are happy to assist you with your ad over the phone. They even assist you with writing your ad. Just call (708) 223-8161 to place your classified ad. Representatives will help you with your ad by phone Monday thru Thursday, 8 am to 8:30 pm, Friday 8 am to 5 pm. You can also place your ad in person at:

Christmas Tree Directory

One million acres of Pine trees provide oxygen for 18 million people

Breathe deeply at a Christmas tree farm and you will enjoy not only the fresh pine fragrance, but also fresh, oxygenated air. That's because of photosynthesis: the trees absorb carbon dioxide-laden air and emit oxygen.

This process of removing excessive carbon dioxide and other harmful gases from the atmosphere also delays the earth-warming "greenhouse effect."

Just one acre of Christmas trees produces the daily oxygen requirements for 18 people. Young trees in their rapid growth years have a high rate of photosynthesis and thus produce more oxygen than older trees.

For each Christmas tree cut, two to three new trees are planted. In the United States, there are approximately one million acres in production for growing Christmas trees. This translates to oxygen for 18 million people per day.

After the holidays, a Christmas tree has many uses:

- Place the Christmas tree in the garden for use as a winter bird feeder and shelter. Use orange slices and bird food to attract birds.

- Christmas trees are biodegradable. The branches can be removed and used as mulch in the garden. The trunk can be chopped for mulch.

- Large quantities of trees make effective sand and soil erosion barriers, especially at beaches.

- Sunk into fish ponds, trees make excellent refuge and feeding trees can be planted in the yard for added years of enjoyment.

Determined Lancers gain revenge

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

If there was series of plays which fit the College of Lake County - Harper junior college basketball game to a "T", it occurred with just over five minutes remaining.

CLC was trying to cling to an 8-point lead over the visiting Hawks. LeShawn Mootie had a break-away lay-up. But Mike Rudd ran the length of the floor and blocked the shot attempt. He then converted an offensive rebound for a comfortable 10-point lead en route to a 83-67 win.

"We played Harper in the tournament and lost a big lead and blew the game. We were determined not to do it again," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

The win was the second of the week for CLC, which improved to 6-5 overall.

"We had a lot of time to think about the game because of the induction ceremony, and we were hyped," Rudd said.

Rudd, a Libertyville product, is the quarterback of this Lancer attack. He got the ball in-bounds, no small feat against tough Harper pressure. He finished with 12 points.

"Rudd is the type of player who could give the team a spark," Smith said.

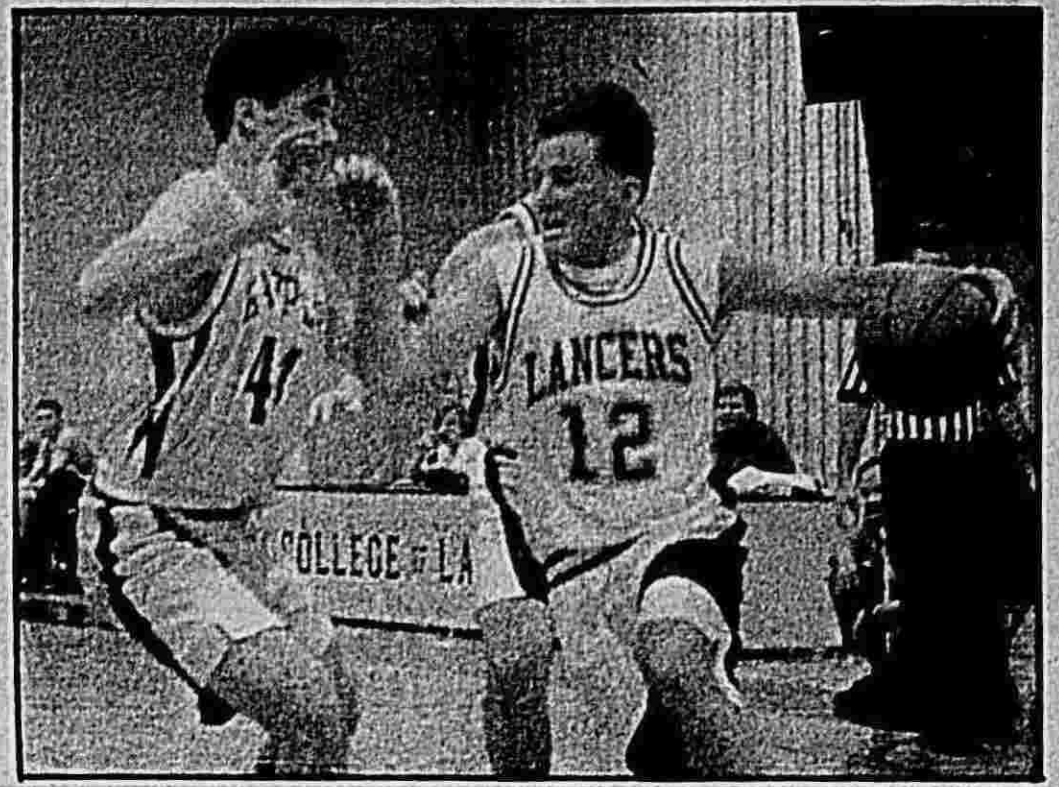

Leading the inside attack was Manuel Stutts with 23 points and Ramsey Williams with 20 points. The two gave the large CLC crowd a slam dunk show as well.

"We came out aggressively to get a victory," Ramsey Williams said.

CLC led 11-0 as soph Rudd had 5 points and Ramsey Williams had 4 in the early going. The Lancers held on to 39-32 halftime lead. Eight free throws kept the Lancers ahead.

A slam by 6-foot, 6-inch Stutts with 14:21 left gave the Lancers a 53-41 lead. The biggest margin came seconds later on another Ramsey Williams hoop.

Harper was led by Gerald Coleman's 23 points See REVENGE page C31

Mike Rudd works on getting past a Harper College defender. Rudd scored 12 points as CLC posted 83-67 win. Rudd is a sophomore from Libertyville.

The battle with the .500 mark continues for the College of Lake County basketball team. The Lancers lost twice at Kankakee, dropping the record to 6-7. Kankakee downed the Lancers 65-48. Kennedy-King gave CLC a 75-41 drubbing.

CLC trailed only 26-24 at halftime. Mike Rudd had 13 points, Robert Kindle had 10 and Ramsey Williams 9 for CLC. Manuel Stutts had 13 points in the Kennedy-King game. CLC is off until it travels to Wisconsin Rapids, for a Dec. 28 - 29 tourney. Home team Mid State Tech is the first foe at 9 p.m. Dec. 28.

Chicago Bears wide receiver Tom Waddle and former Chicago Bear Wendell Davis will be at Center Street Mall in Grayslake Dec. 17 from 1 to 2 p.m.

See both Waddle and Davis at the Video and Music Store, Suite 108, at the mall. For more information, call 548-8273.

CLC salutes best athletes with wall-of-fame status

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

They came from near and far to Grayslake to take part in history at the College of Lake County's Wall-of-Fame ceremony.

The best of the 1,700 athletes which have donned the Lancers navy and silver uniforms and two coaches all received plaques and recognition before a large crowd at the CLC gym. Some 40 of the 51 athletes whose names are now on banners were in attendance.

"I hope each has some fond memories. They represent a lot of dedication and contributions. If we had this group now, we would never lose a game," CLC Athletic Director Gene Hanson said.

Coaches recognized were Dave Beck, who is retiring as soccer coach and former golf coach Doug Sherman.

Wilbur Borrero, a wrestler, was the first inductee. He is athletic director at Waukegan High. At CLC, he won more than 50 matches, was state champion and team MVP.

"The first thing I remember about CLC was my coach, Bud Weick. It was a tough transition from high school, but he made it smoother," he said.

"This is a dream come true," Kelly Damron said.

Damron was a softball player who was among the latest CLC graduates. She is back at Western Illinois after leading the Lancers to the state finals for two years and a two-time all Skyway Conference player.

"We had a lot of good players," soccer player Jaime Cervantes said.

He recalls how he first met coach Dave Beck. "I was playing soccer indoors with the CLC players and they asked me to come out for the team," he said.

"I was not ready to go to a four-year school," fellow soccer inductee Joe Carver said.

He recalled wearing a soccer t-shirt when making academic plans with counselor and soccer coach Dave Beck. He is now playing at University of Southern Indiana at Evansville. At CLC, he was a two-time all-American, two-time all state and conference and Skyway Conference MVP. He is the leading CLC scorer for season and career.

Cervantes was team MVP and captain and two-time all state and conference. He holds the CLC record for assists.

"A lasting relationship with coach," Jennifer Munda said. Munda was reunited with her CLC coach, Chuck Schramm. She played for the Lady Lancers from 1985-87.

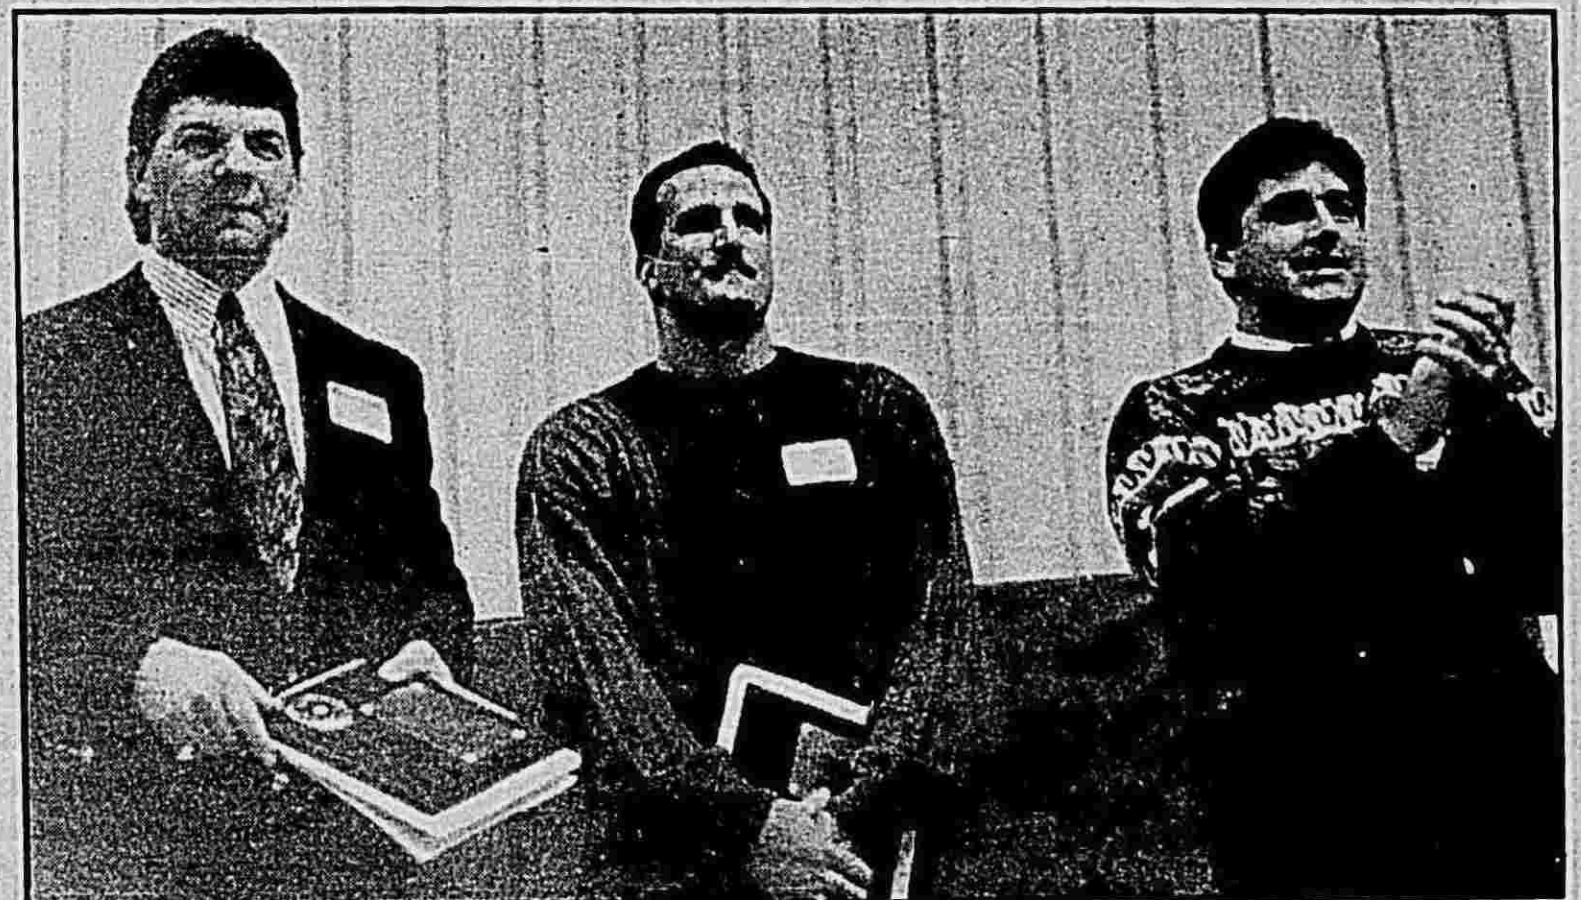

"I could not have gone to Northern Illinois without going to CLC first," Caryn Alexander said.

Munda's accolades include: two-time all-conference, all state and Illinois junior college all star.

Alexander led the Lancers to an unbeaten conference title in women's basketball and was a JUCO all-star, team MVP and conference MVP. She also played softball and volleyball at CLC.

"You remember the games, but you also remember the practices because that is when you get to know your teammates," Alexander, who is from Highland Park, said.

CLC's Sherman, Beck honored for coaching excellence

"I didn't know why they would not give me a program," Doug Sherman joked.

He knows now. For Sherman and Dave Beck were two coaches named in the College of Lake County's Wall-of-Fame ceremony last week.

Sherman was golf coach from 1969-82 with an overall record of 100-4 in dual meets. His teams won nine Skyway Conference titles in 10 years, seven state titles and hold an NJCAA record 86 straight dual wins.

"We have had a number of great golfers over the years," Sherman said.

Sherman, who served as CLC athletic director, had success in spring tournaments with teams finishing third, eighth (twice), 10th and 15th.

He is an Illinois Region IV Hall-of-Fame member, was golf chairman and coach of the year seven times and conference coach of the year nine times.

Beck was soccer coach from 1986 until after this past season. He had a 96-47-5 record.

Honors include: four Skyway Conference titles and coach-of-the-year honors; Region IV coach-of-the-year and Skyway and Region IV soccer chairman.

"After the last game of last season, I stood on our home field and began to remember all the great players who played here," he said.

Former soccer players inducted include: Tom Holveas, two-time team MVP and captain, two-time all-state.

Jim Dionne: team MVP and captain; two-time all-state, All-American goalie and has record for least goals surrendered. He was an Illinois player-of-the-year.

Jamie Cervantes: team MVP and captain; two-time all-state, all-conference and CLC record holder for assists.

Joe Carver: two-time all-American; two-time all-conference and state and leading scorer.

Omar Pacheco: team MVP and captain; two-time all-state; two-time all conference and conference MVP and all-time leading defender.

Golfers honored include:

John Cyboyan: two-time all-American; two-time all-state and conference and Conference and team MVP and team captain.

Bruce Johnson: all-American; finished third in the national tournament; two-time all-conference and state and team captain and MVP.

Del Gorski: all-American and NJCAA national champion; two-time all-conference and state and conference MVP and team captain and MVP.

CLC women misses on strong try for second win

Although the result was the same as seven of the other games, the contest did give College of Lake County women's basketball team hope.

That was the conclusion following a 60-55 non-conference loss to Harper which dropped CLC to 1-8 overall.

"I saw a lot of positives," Coach Don Zeman said. "We gave ourselves the opportunity to win."

But that chance faded as CLC was held scoreless for the final three minutes. Harper's three free throws were enough to pull away.

Debbie Pope had 16 points to lead the Lady Lancers. Mandy Jacobsen contributed 12 and Lisa Sinnokrak 11 points.

"Pope has been playing super. We could not ask any more of her. She played 39 minutes," Zeman said of the Lake Zurich grad.

"I am very pleased with Lisa. She has only been with us for two weeks, but she gives us a spark at each end. She is playing well," Zeman said of Sinnokrak, a Warren Township High grad.

CLC's high-water mark came with 4:39 left in the second half when Kim Rowe converted a nice pass from Pope for a 53-46 lead.

Harper (5-4) was led by 14 points from Sara Toon, and had 13 from Emily Longmore. Victoria Kyrychenko (5 points), a Lake Zurich grad, gave Harper the lead for good at 55-53 with 2:10 remaining.

Jean Steel and Toon then hit down-the-stretch free throws and Denise Hengels' tip in ended the game.

CLC showed its perimeter game at the end of the first half and beginning of the second. Pope had one and Jacobsen had a pair of three-pointers for a 35-29 lead. Harper caught CLC at 38-38 and the rest of the half was back-and-forth until the lack of second shots and free throws did the home team in.

CLC hosts Kankakee at 1 p.m. Dec. 17.

Carmel preparing for loop battles on home court

The experience level will be the one thing with separates Carmel High's next two opponents.

"Both Notre Dame and St. Patrick play tough man-to-man defense, but Notre Dame is more experienced," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

Carmel is coming off a split in which the Corsairs notched the season's first win. They edged St. Viator 61-55 to start the East Suburban Catholic Conference season on a bright note. Both weekend games, Dec. 16 and 17, are home 7:30 p.m. encounters and are league tests.

Carmel stumbled against Hersey in no-conference action, losing 69-41.

Mike Malone's two three-pointers turned the tide against the Viator Lions.

"After that, it became a two possession game instead of a one possession game and they had to foul," Berg said.

Carmel made 12 of 14 fourth quarter free throws with Manny Trillo leading the way. Trillo scored 9 of his 12 points from the charity stripe as Carmel pulled ahead.

The offensive attack was varied. Malone had 11 points, Mike Graham had 9 and Erick Ames had 8 and Ruben Rivera had 7 with a three-pointer. Carmel concluded the game with a 26-point fourth quarter flurry.

The Hersey Huskies wasted little time in showing why they had a 5-1 record. Hersey had a 26-7 lead after eight minutes and never looked back. Mike Graham led the Carmel attack with 11 points.

"Hersey is a real tough, good team. They did things defensively we had not seen," Berg said.

Brunswick aids Special Olympics Chicago

Special Olympics Chicago, a program that provides sports training and athletic competition for developmentally disabled children and adults, received $26,000 from the Brunswick Foundation as the result of a $15 per pin pledge during the nationally televised finals of the 1994 Brunswick Memorial World Open.

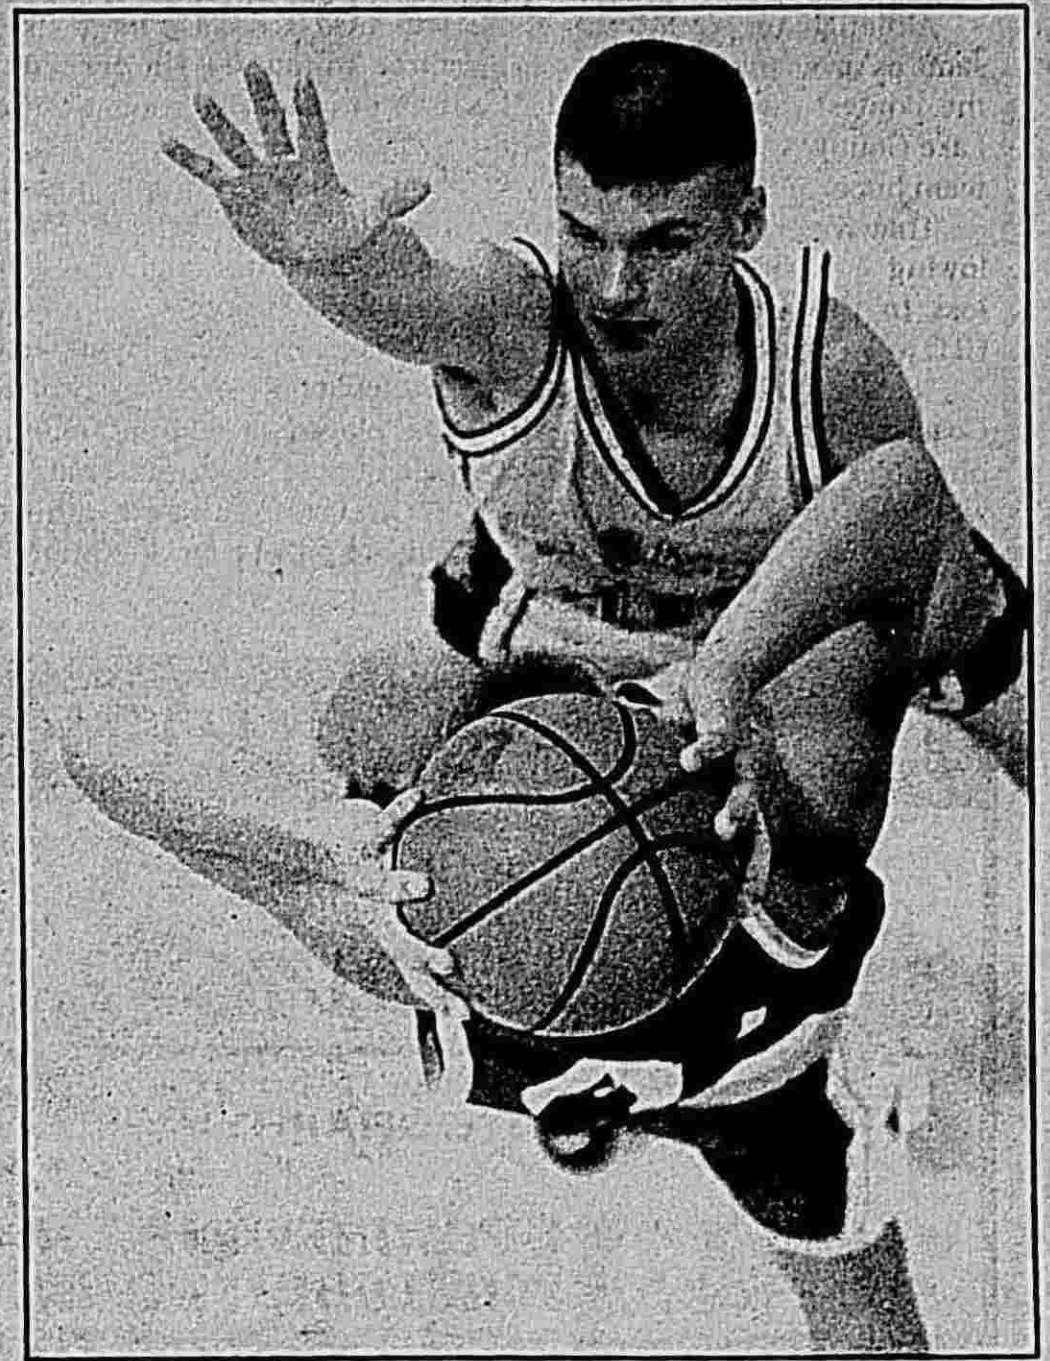

Since 1988, Brunswick has designated a local charity to receive the annual per-pin pledge. Brunswick donates $15 per pin, based on the total combined scores of the four televised games. Pinfall from the four games bowled during the finals of the 1994 World Open was 1,724, for a total donation of $26,000. During the past six years, Brunswick has donated over $175,000 to Chicago area charities.

Conceived and developed in Chicago 26 years ago, Special Olympics has grown into an international movement serving over two million children and adults worldwide. The program is open to all individuals 8 years and older with mental retardation or cognitive delays. One of Special Olympics Chicago's most popular sports is bowling, which has been part of the program for 21 years. In 1994, more than 375 bowlers competed for medals and ribbons; gold medal winners qualified to attend regional and state events.

Prior to this year's tournament, Brunswick Corporation Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer Jack Reichert announced that the Brunswick Memorial World Open would merge with the prestigious Tournament of Champions. That tournament will be held at Brunswick Deer Park Lanes in Lake Zurich beginning April 16, and the finals will be telecast live at 2 p.m. on ABC-TV on Saturday, April 22.

and 15 from Marvin Childs.

"He can do a lot of nice, athletic things. He is still learning. This was his ninth game," Harper Coach Ron Cregier said of Coleman, from Mundelein.

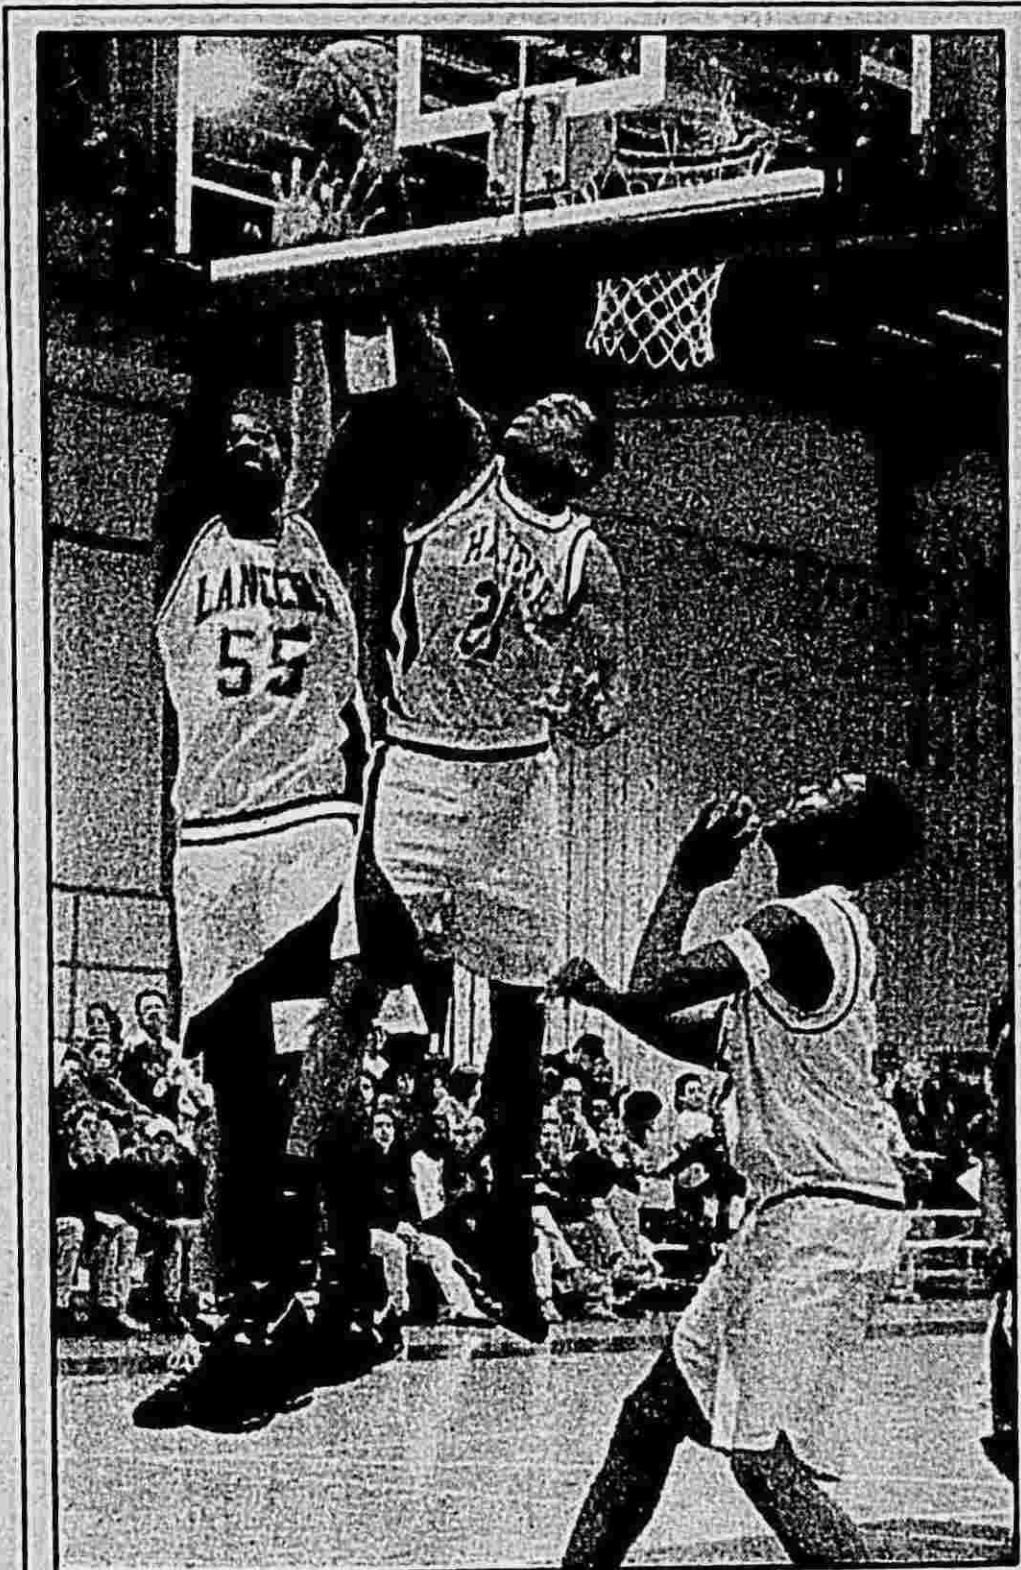

Coleman single-handedly kept the Hawks in the game early in the second half. The Mundelein grad's three-pointer and free throw cut a CLC lead to eight points. He added another three, a free throw and basket in second half play.

Cregier was impressed with the CLC effort as his team fell to 3-6.

"They have the inside game, but you also have to have the outside game to get them the ball," he said.

CLC showed depth as well as Kelan Williams had 8 points and Justin Hanlin contributed 6. Hanlin, a Warren High grad, was matched with former NSC rival Coleman at times.

In the end, it was hustle and determination which earned the Lancers an above .500 record. And some strong effort to remember the Lancers by, as they do not return home until a Jan. 5 game against Triton.

ketball for the Lancers in the early 70's as CLC won its first conference title in 1972-73.

Another men's basketball inductee, Mark Hill, traveled from Las Vegas.

"Running the court and having a good time," Hill said of CLC memories.

He summed up the feelings of the 40 who gathered on a Thursday night. "It is an honor," he said.

Karrie Showalter made all-conference for volleyball, was all state and Illinois junior college all-star.

"It was fun. You learned how to work as a team," Showalter said. She played from 1979-80 and went on to play at Northern Illinois University.

Greg Green found success in baseball and basketball at CLC. In basketball, he was team MVP and captain, two-time all conference and the all-time best free throw shooter and all time assist leader. He now plays shortstop for the University of Wisconsin-Parkside team.

"I enjoyed myself here. My sophomore year in basketball was the best. The competition was pretty tough, a lot tougher than expected," he said.
